Death Toll In Storm In Cuba May Total 1,000

Whole Villages Are Reported Demolished By Severe Hurricane On Island

DEBRIS SEARCHED FOR MANY VICTIMS

Entire Relief Forces Mobilized To Care For Thousands Of Homeless

By CLIFFORD H. GALLOWAY

HAVANA, Nov. 11—With an estimated death toll ranging between 500 and 1,200, the swampy south central reaches of the Island of Cuba lay ravaged today as all relief forces were mobilized to care for the thousands left homeless by the hurricane which swept up from the Caribbean on Wednesday.

Carrying death and widespread destruction, the hurricane struck in the vicinity of Santa Cruz Del Sur, a fishing town on the southern coast, sweeping up the seas and deluging the town beneath a 25-foot wall of water. From there, the storm streaked across the island, devastating

PA NEWC OBSERVES

The president-elect's name is pronounced correctly as "Rose-velt". Pa Newc hears it mis-pronounced quite frequently. Roosevelt's middle name is pronounced "Della-no", spelled Delano.

Pa Newc doesn't know why, but it generally is rainy on Armistice Day. As a rule, it doesn't rain hard, just enough to make conditions miserable.

Fourteen years is quite a long time. One-fifth of the time mentioned in the Bible as the span of mans' life. Yet it does not seem as though it has been 14 years since the great World war ended. To many of those who were engaged in that tremendous conflict, events which happened in 1917 and 1918 are very vivid. A group of veterans who annually bring back those old memories will hold their customary dinner this evening, and some unusual tales will be unfolded as these men gather around the festive board and reminisce.

A lot of voters throughout the country are now doing a little sober reflection on the last Tuesday upheaval they took part in and are not so convinced that it was such a commendable thing after all. For example, down in Pittsburgh voters ousted a congressman and elected in his place a man, whom it is now found, hasn't been a citizen of the United States long enough to be eligible to serve as a congressman.

Churches are preparing their Christmas cantatas. Christmas is not so far off, by the way. It is just a short jump after Thanksgiving Day.

Just what he was supposed to represent is a mystery, but the

Armistice Day Messages

(Editor's Note:—The following Armistice Day message was written by General Peyton C. March for International News Service.)

By GENERAL PEYTON C. MARCH, U. S. A.,
Chief of Staff in the World War.

To my army comrades of the World war and those devoted Americans in civil life who performed service of incalculable value as a part of the great war-machine which comprised the nation at war, I send greetings on the 14th anniversary of Armistice Day.

On this day the nation again faces a crisis which calls for the same sturdy Americanism which carried us through the World war so successfully. Let us all join again to fight the forces of depression and demoralization which are threatening us today. We can and will overcome them.

By JANE ADAMS
(Nnoted Social Worker and Co-winner of the Nobel Prize for Activities In Behalf of World Peace.)

(Written Especially For, and Copyright, 1932, By International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Today, Armistice Day, ought to turn the attention of all of us toward a more peaceful world, and it ought also to fill us with resolution to secure the proper political arrangements between nations so that peace may be made more possible.

If we re-dedicated ourselves every Armistice Day to this task of insuring world peace it would not be long until it was accomplished.

Thieves Make Second Visit To Allison Farm

For the second time within three nights the farm of Ralph W. Allison of the New Bedford road, was visited by thieves Thursday night. On Tuesday morning before daylight the gang was foiled when John Orengo was shot in the hip by Mr. Allison. Thursday night 45 chickens were stolen from the coops on the Allison farm.

County Detective Lee and Assistant Detective Rocks visited the Allison farm early today and found the tracks of the thieves from the chicken coop to the road. No other clues were found. In the meantime, Mr. Allison has prepared his shotgun and the next visitors to his farm will not be welcomed with a revolver, but with shotgun fire.

Heavy Depradations.

Thefts of chickens in this district have reached the point where drastic measures are being considered. In the past eight months 1100 chickens have been stolen, along with other farm produce. Farmers in the neighborhood are losing sleep every night watching their places and a general practice is being adopted by them of shooting without warning, any person found on their places after dark.

Tuesday morning before daylight Mrs. Allison was awakened by sounds on the porch of the house. She awakened her husband and picking up his revolver Mr. Allison leaned out the window. He heard voices down in the yard and fired twice to scare them. Three men were down there and fearing they would shoot him Mr. Allison drew down on one man and shot him in the right hand. The man's hand was at his side and the bullet went through into the hip. Had Mr. Allison used his shotgun then as he intends to do in the future, the man, John Orengo, would have been torn apart

Jimmy Walker Is Going To Italy

Former Mayor Of New York City Will Rest In Italy, Plans Indian Tour

BETTY COMPTON ON SAME LINER

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Convinced he is "politically dead" and life in New York no longer having any allure for him, former Mayor James J. Walker is on the high seas today, bound for sunny Italy, with a trip to India in the offing and the likelihood that he will end up by establishing a residence in Paris for an indefinite period.

Thus, rather poignantly, comes to an end the brilliant political career of the dapper, wise-cracking "Jimmy" Walker — a career which stretched back over twenty-three years and put him into intimate touch with some of the most famous public figures in American life. He was a man who "had everything," brains, ability and showmanship but with one serious drawback—the love of a good time.

Walker, accompanied by his valet, Greenhouse, sailed last evening on the liner Conte Grande bound for Mediterranean ports. He made every effort to keep his departure a secret. He went aboard the ship hours before it left, locked himself in a stateroom and refused to see newspapermen who had learned of his contemplated departure. Two

Local Veterans Trek To Butler

Annual Armistice Day Dinner Only Event Of Observance Locally

Local world war veterans, representing the various veteran organizations, together with the ladies auxiliaries of the same, and many of their friends are in Butler today, where the Tri-County celebration, drawing men and women from Mercer, Lawrence and Butler counties is being held. Troop F is also taking part.

Local schools are closed, along with some business institutions, and public offices, the day being a legal holiday in Pennsylvania.

The annual Armistics Day dinner, which attracts a group of local veterans each year, is the only event on the program in New Castle. These men will assemble at Burnsides on North Mill street at 6:30 this evening, for their annual get-together and talkfest, when they will recall another Armistice Day 14 years ago.

Belief P. & L. E. Plans Early Start On Depot Project

Rumors Say Road To Close Two Tracks, Tower House Next Monday

Unconfirmed rumors today said the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad would shortly take steps to launch construction on the proposed joint Seventh ward station with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, but official announcement to that effect was lacking.

Pittsburgh headquarters, it was learned, have called for the abandonment of a tower house above the B. and O's Seventh ward station and the abolishment of service of its two inner main tracks in the depot section by next Monday. Railroad officers here had no definite knowledge that it had a bearing on the station work.

Belief was held here however, that this action forecasts an early start on the new depot arrangements planned.

The P. & L. E. and B. and O. announced months ago that such an improvement would be made, but delay after delay has brought necessary postponements of the change.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Minor unemployment demonstrations today marred Britain's traditionally solemn observance of Armistice Day.

Disorders occurred in various parts of London when individuals failed to observe the two-minute period of silence. Shocked by this unprecedented disrespect to the war dead, indignant crowds set upon the dissenters and thrashed them severely.

The police were faced with a difficult problem, but in every case they elected to stand silent and at attention until the two minutes were over before the waded in and rescued the dissenters from the hands of the crowd.

Silence Is Broken

Outside the general post office in St. Martins-Le-Grand, one man broke the silence by shouting:

"What about the Means Test?"

His shrill voice carried through the streets, which otherwise were silent as the tomb, with buses, taxis and tram-cars standing still and thousands pausing bare-headed on the sidewalks.

Post office workers, who had streamed in the street for the public manifestation of tribute to the dead, surrounded the man and subdued him.

Communists Arrested

In Edinburgh, a group of Communists attempted to stage a noisy protest on the stroke of 11 a. m., carrying placards protesting against cuts in the dole. Two were arrested.

Commemorating the hour and day the guns signalled "cease firing" on all fronts, King George V., in the name of the British Empire and in the presence of massed thousands, placed a flaming wreath of red Flanders poppies at the base of the Cenotaph, the nation's unified war memorial here.

California and several states voted to do away with their local enforcement laws. Now out here, liquors and wines are classed as "perishable goods" and are given right of way on highways and trains.

Democrats had such a hard time getting money to campaign on that I doubt if they will have enough to get to Washington on.

President Hoover And Wife Will Leave California Home After Fine Rest

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 11.—His home stay cut short by vital problems affecting the world economic situation, President Hoover prepared to leave California tonight on a fast special train that will get him to Washington Tuesday morning for a series of conferences with leading members of his cabinet.

Primarily, it was understood, the question of international debt payments was causing the executive to reduce his brief vacation in Palo Alto by twenty-four hours. Reports have reached the imposing Hoover home on San Juan Hill here that Europe's leading nations—now that the national elections have passed—are ready to ask for an extension of the moratorium.

Debts Due Dec. 15.

The next installments on the world war debt are due December 15. None of the major powers included any provision for meeting them in their current budgets.

Cables from European capitals indicate that a second deferment of payment is desired.

Train schedules were twice rearranged to suit President Hoover's desire to be back at his desk.

The final itinerary, eliminating Chicago, calls for a start of the eastward dash at nine o'clock tonight. The southern route will be taken, by way of Los Angeles, Yuma, Tuscon, El Paso, St. Louis and Cincinnati.

Two Dedicatory Programs Given At Noted Shrine

Armistice Day Ceremonies At Arlington Cemetery Are Marked By Feeling

SECRETARY OF WAR IS CHIEF SPEAKER

Commander Of American Legion Also Takes Part In Formal Program

By PAUL C. YATES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ARLINGTON NATIONAL CEMETERY, Va., Nov. 11.—Rival dedicatory exercises were held today at the Tom of the Unknown Soldier as a result of bitter feeling among ex-service men over eviction of the bonus marchers from Washington last July by Federal troops.

Victory and Alexandria posts of the American Legion, after protesting against the appearance of Secretary of War Hurley at the Armistice Day exercises dedicating the world famous shrine, staged a dedicatory ceremony of their own.

Have Rival Program.

Members of these two posts, more than 100 of whom were in uniform, waited on the grassy slopes of the National cemetery until Secretary Hurley had laid a wreath at the unknown soldier's tomb. When he and Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, entered the nearby amphitheater to deliver their speeches, the procession of the two legion posts approached the shrine.

Officials of the two posts and several leaders of the B. E. F. placed wreaths on the tomb. Then their followers marched in formation to the graves of William Hushka and Eric Carlson, the two bonus marchers who were slain by police during the rioting on Pennsylvania avenue last summer, and placed floral offerings.

Address Capacity Crowd.

Meanwhile Hurley and Johnson were addressing a capacity crowd in the amphitheater. Hurley was escorted by a military guard and his arrival at the amphitheater was signaled by the booming of cannon at nearby Fort Myer.

When the war secretary started to speak about 150 ex-service men arose in protest and walked out. They quietly marched to the exits some accompanied by women and children, without greatly disturbing Hurley's remarks.

National officials of the legion, together with a number of district legion heads, had tried to prevent any incident which might mar the solemnity of today's observance.

Hurley Speaks.

In addressing the assemblage, Hurley asserted:

"This soldier's body was chosen from a group of fallen comrades, all

Let me go back for a time today, back to another age, when men wore khaki and carried guns, and the whole wide world was a stage. And all the actors were fighting men, in a drama of blood and gore, and Mars was the heavy who trod the boards in the drama they said was War. Let me go back to the days in camp, of bugles and iodine, when every morn saw the khaki clad, step out in a snappy line. And let me forget on a day like this, the fellows who fell where they fought, the lads who were right in the middle of things when the fighting was close and hot. For they are the ones that this day is for, went west stead of you or me, those fellows who stayed on the fields in France, the weather is forty three.

TWO NATIONS DEFAULT ON DEBT TO U. S.

Greece Fails To Pay Obligation

Hungary Gives Notice That Debt Due December 15 Will Not Be Paid

STIMSON SILENT ON DEBT CLAMOR

New Democratic Administration Must Announce Policy On Debts

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—With Greece failing to meet her payment due the United States yesterday, and Hungary serving notice she cannot meet her obligation on Dec. 15 the Republican administration was looking to its Democratic successor before determining a definite policy on the European debt situation.

While Greece was defaulting its scheduled installment of $227,000 principal and $217,920 interest, Hungary gave notice she could not pay her principal installment of $12,285 and interest aggregating $28,444. Estonia, Latvia and Poland, already have given notice they cannot pay on Dec. 15. Estonia on that date will owe $90,000; Latvia, $37,000, and Poland, $1,125,000. Secretary of the Treasury Mills announced he presumes they will pay the interest on their debts.

Stoney Silence.

A stoney silence greeted the most recent clamor from European capitals for cancellation or a radical reduction of the debts. Secretary of State Stimson and his chief advisers had "nothing to say" on the matter. They said there were no negotiations regarding the debts at present, and intimated none were likely to be opened in the immediate future.

At almost the precise moment this position was being stated by state department officials Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador here, was calling upon Stimson and acquainting him with the British government's desire to have payment of the Dec. 15 installment postponed for an indefinite period. This installment of the British debt amounts to some $95,550,000, of which $30,000,000 is repayment of principal and $65,550 is payment of interest.

Declines Comment.

Stimson declined to discuss the British ambassador's visit, or to confirm or deny reports that Sir Ronald had presented him with a note setting forth the British government's views.

Immediately following the Democratic victory of Nov. 8 Stimson requested that President-elect Roosevelt immediately announce his choice for the state portfolio so that matters of future policy might be discussed, but the New York governor has indicated he will have no cabinet appointments to announce until 1933.

Stimson was equally silent regarding the visits paid him by the French and Italian ambassadors yesterday.

DEATH TOLL IN STORM IN CUBA MAY REACH 1,000

town and countryside with its full force felt as far as Nuevitas on the northern coast.

Villages Demolished.

The ministry of communications officially announced 300 dead in this little sugar and fishing town, with 400 missing. Officials said the exact number of fatalities never would be known since scores, perhaps hundreds, were swept out to sea and drowned as the wave receded.

Only four houses were left standing in the town, and some of the survivors arriving in Camaguey, wounded and half-crazed from terror, declared the entire population of about 3,000 was wiped out.

Reports Exaggerated.

These estimates were believed exaggerated, however, and officials awaited news from rescue workers before placing the toll there above 300 lives.

Estimates of deaths in the Havana newspapers ranged as high as 1,200. El Pais placed the list at between 300 and 400. Diario De Marina estimated there were 1,000 dead, while El Mundo placed the figure at 1,200. All the estimates were based on the tales of terrified survivors, the official figure standing at 300 dead and 400 missing at 8 a. m.

Death Toll May Mount.

Nearly 200 were known to have been killed in other places throughout eastern Cuba, with the possibility the list might increase.

Many exaggerated reports were received in Havana as the great extent of damage gradually was unfolded. The government, announcing officially 17 were killed in Camaguey, denied reports the death roll there was in the several hundreds.

Many prominent officials were among the fatalities at Santa Cruz Del Sur, two of them being the military supervisor and the judge of the court of instruction. The town's two doctors were killed, leaving no one to render professional medical assistance.

Town Deserted.

The town had been deserted as the hurricane neared the Cuban coast, but the great tidal wave rushed far inland, destroying all before it. Tugs were carried as far as five miles inland, and the hundreds of residents who thought themselves safe met death.

All of the residents of the litte fishing village of "Twelve League Keys", near Camaguey, were believed to have perished before the tidal wave. The population of this village is generally about 50.

Many Are Drowned.

Known dead in other localities were as follows: Senda 7, Camajuani 13, Central Violeta 4, Florida 2, Velasco 6, Caibbarien 2, Alto Songo 1.

The extent of the Santa Cruz Del Sur tragedy was revealed by Eloy Garcia Figuero, a survivor who made his way to Jatibonico, where he telephoned news to the outside world.

He said most of the deaths were by drowning from the tidal wave, few having been injured in the collapse of buildings or otherwise hurt.

HOOVER TO HEAD EASTWARD TODAY

Tomorrow at 8:55 a. m., at Glendale, a suburb of Los Angeles, the president will make a brief rear platform speech at the behest of his Southern California admirers.

Upon conclusion of the address, the entire presidential party will motor to the newly-constructed home of Herbert Hoover, Jr., outside of Pasadena. Mrs. Hoover expressed a desire to see her son's home and the train schedule was revised accordingly. The party will be picked up by the train at Alhambra.

The invitation to President-elect Roosevelt to join with President Hoover in a non-partisan conference looking to expedition of a national relief program will be deferred until around the time congress convenes in December. Mr. Hoover desires first to push certain measures of his own formulation to a more effective working basis, it was said.

Japan Goes Military

Toyko, Nov. 11.—Japan's observance of Armistice Day was marked today by the beginning of a gigantic three-day military display, planned to be the greatest military manoeuvers the country has witnessed in a decade.

Paris, Nov. 11.—Thousands of bared heads were bowed in reverence along the Champs Elysees today as France observed the two minutes' silence in honor of her war dead.

Those who gathered along this famous avenue watched the nation's official tribute, ceremonies in which France's highest dignitaries participated.

Soldiers from the Paris garrison, headed by General Gouraurd, marched along the Champs Elysees from the Place De La Concorde to the Arc D' Triomphe, there to halt beside the grave of the unknown soldier.

A sharp and biting wind, accompanied by a slight drizzle, whipped across the faces of all during the two minutes, beginning at exactly 11 o'clock.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The cost of jilting is going up in England.

Court records revealed that something like $100,000 was awarded as heart-balm in various breach of promise suits during 1932. It is by far the biggest amount awarded in any one year by British courts.

Breach of promise actions, the court records indicated, are on the upward trend, with fifteen cases on file for the Christmas term. Juries, month by month, apparently are awarding heavier damages in all deserving cases.

TWO DEDICATORY PROGRAMS GIVEN AT NOTED SHRINE

of them known only to God. His body was designated for the immortal honor of serving to eternity in his own native soil as America's unknown soldier.

"The externals that differentiate men in life have all been swept away and we behold merely the man, the character, the soul, the symbol of the spirit of America.

"That spirit is the noble heritage of the American people. It is this spirit which has founded a free government and conquered a vast continent."

Hoover's Tribute.

Hurley acted for President Hoover who is on the west coast. The president sent the following message to be read at the dedication:

"The nation will linger today in its annual tribute of reverent memory of the glorious youth who gave their lives to depend our heritage of liberty and will pay a special homage in the dedication of the completed tomb of the unknown soldier.

"Its beauty is the symbol of our national pride in their heroism; our gratitude for their supreme devotion."

A warning against American participation in "useless wars which settle nothing" was voiced by Louis I. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, who presided. Johnson made a spirited plea for adequate national defense as a preparation against war.

Legion Commander Speaks.

Johnson's eloquence visibly affected his audience. The legion commander, in memorable phrases, declared:

"Our gathering, this tomb, are holy and impressive significance. From these, God's verdant hills, which He has draped down upon the earth, beseeching trees 'lift their leafy arms to pray.' His pristine sunlight drenches down and blanches pure white marble to heavenly translucency. The rustle of the leaves of the expiring year is heard, at once a requiem and a paean of exultation. All are silent and solemn reminders of days that are done.

"Overhead, out against the empyrean, shimmers our majestic flag in chromatic and spiritual splendor, as a promise and a benediction.

"Below us—all so silent, so appealing—lie those who were baptized in flame, they who have been transfigured in fire. In life their young militant manhood stirred our hearts. In death, the memory of their deeds occupy our souls. Their youthful eyes have bypeld sights in the azure glory of morning sunlight and in the crimson glare of night which we would spare to those who just now grow up to our shoulders—those who must carry forward as we pass on."

With dramatic feeling, Johnson swept his arm down the slope where, row on row, stand the gravestones marking the burial places of World war heroes.

Wrigley Reporters Comb New Castle And Vicinity For Wrigley Gum Users

By MR. SPEAR.

Talk about excitement! The next time I visit the Ben Franklin Junior High School I am going to ask the Police for a body guard. I'll bet some of you fellows will be star football players some of these days, if yesterday was any sample of your "line-bucking" ability.

Miss Mint made a little trip out of town yesterday morning, and I think she surprised a lot of people in New Wilmington, Mercer, Grove City and Slippery Rock. You know, it doesn't matter where you are, Mr. Spear, Miss Mint or one of our assistants, are apt to approach you and ask the question "Do you have an opened package of Wrigley's gum with you?" You really should be prepared and have a package of one of the four Wrigley flavors, Doublemint, Spearmint, Juicy Fruit, PK's.

When I paid MISS ELLEN ROCKS, 406 Bartram Ave., for her opinion she said "Doublemint has always been my favorite, its fresh, and so satisfying". ROBERT E. HOOS, 605 Highland Ave., told me he liked the way the new cellophane wrapper opened, and that the flavor of Spearmint was delicious.

MISS GRACE JONES, who Miss Mint located at the Hillside Dormitory in New Wilmington, produced a package of Doublemint and stated that it was her favorite brand. ELLIS W. ANDERSON, Mercer, Penna. and C. W. REDMOND, 246 E. Beaver St., Mercer, Penna., were prepared to give their opinions of Doublemint and Spearmint respectively when Miss Mint approached them yesterday morning.

These Grove City residents were carrying Wrigley's gum when Miss Mint approached them, and, of course, each of them received a brand new dollar bill. HAROLD COOK, 212 Grace St., DONALD T. MacCARTNEY, 311 College Ave., MISS E. DICKSON, 203 Poplar St., CARSON W. MARSH, 212 Grace St., MISS KATHERINE DICKEY, Rainey Ave., and CHARLES L. STEWART, Box 344, Grove City.

When I stopped MR. HUGH SWEENEY, 403 Blunston St., on E. Washington St., in New Castle yesterday, he showed me a package of Doublemint and said he had been using Wrigley's for 20 years. About a block away I met MISS EDNA SEWALL, 119½ N. Mill St., who said Juicy Fruit was her favorite. Of course, both of these people are a dollar richer.

FRED A. SHOUFF, 841 Lathrop St., New Castle, said he like the easy way the new cellophane wrapper opened and it protected the delightful flavor of Spearmint. EDWARD PARK, 1312 Hamilton St., received one of the Wrigley dollars when he showed me a package of Doublemint.

Here are a few more names of people that received Wrigley dollars yesterday: MRS. V. V. VEACH, 316 Fairmont Ave., MRS. JACK LEWIS, 29 E. North St., H. E. HOLSINGER, 605 Highland Ave., JOS. R. GUILFOYLE, 518 W. Washington St., R. H. BOAK, 229 Hillcrest Ave., THELMA A. HOWELL, 1811 Delaware Ave., HARRY JONES, 120 E. Cunningham Ave., JANE PONZI, 1141 S. Mill St., DON LOMBARDO, 420 E. Lutton St., JEAN HARTLAND, 430 E. Long Ave., EDDIE DeCARBO, 514 E. Lutton St., MARY TEPLICA, 1101 Summit St., JENNIE GRUCUK, 1313 Howard Way, BENJ. J. THOMAS, R. F. D. No. 1, Shenango Twp., IRENE WARSO, 1510 S. Jefferson St., ALBERT ADAMO, 206 S. Wayne St., HELEN KELLER, 1506½ Hanna St., LEWIS FERRARO, 1206 Pollock Ave., and FRANCES GORGAS, 1509 S. Jefferson St.

Even though today is Armistice Day, and a holiday for some people, Miss Mint, myself and our assistants will be on the job. If you haven't the necessary package of Wrigley's with you, better get it right now so that you will be ready to give your opinion of this wonderful gum, and receive one of those brand new crisp dollar bills.—Adv.

The plane was demolished but it did not burn.

Authorities were blocked in their efforts to determine the cause of the crash because there were no survivors. They said Hirt apparently was piloting the craft.

The little Girl who wouldn't EAT

When a youngster has no appetite, it's probably due to stasis. A little fig syrup will soon correct this condition — then watch the child eat.

Nature knows best! Never coax a child to eat! Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite—get rid of stasis. Children who don't eat are sluggish. Not to correct this is inexcusable. It is so easy to do, if you will only use the "California treatment." Read what it is doing for listless children in every part of the country!

When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, don't give small children any constipating cathartic that drains the system and weakens twenty feet of tender bowels! California fig syrup is the only "medicine" they need!

Sluggishness ended in 2 Weeks!

That girl or boy with a furry tongue and a bad breath should not be dosed with salts! California fig syrup will gently stimulate the colon muscles —and the child you used to coax to eat will fairly devour his food, digest it, gain weight.

Try the California treatment! Begin tonight, with enough of the pure fig syrup to cleanse the colon thoroughly. Less tomorrow, then every other day, or twice a week until the child's appetite, digestion, weight, complexion, tell you the stasis is gone.

Be sure to get the real California fig syrup. Any druggist has it, all bottled, with directions. It's a natural, vegetable laxative. Just as good for babes of two years as boys of ten. They all love its taste!

NOTICE TO MOTHERS

There are imitations of California fig syrup, and those who would sell you some substitute even when a child's health is concerned. Don't ever take any bottle that is not plainly labeled CALIFORNIA.

FOURTEENTH ARMISTICE DAY

TODAY the Nation mourns her soldiers dead, honors her soldiers living, and with face resolutely to the future voices rededication to the ideals of peace. In today's observance there is no glorification of war. There is, indeed, little of the celebration of victory. There is much sober realization of the cost of it all and a grim determination that it shall not come to another generation through fault or omission of ours.

Yet, do we realize the full burden that we bear? It is not enough that we have the will for peace. It is not enough that we refrain from any act that might invite war. We must do mightily for peace. Else all our hope and desire and longing are in vain. It profits us little if we merely preach valiantly for peace, or shed a tear as the flag goes by. Let us have the fighting courage to face the issues of the day as they come before us, and do our bit toward guiding national destinies in the path of constructive service.

Today is Armistice Day. Let it be a day of plainer comprehension of the old vision, a day of rededication to the old ideals, a day of rebaptism in the old courage. Let it be a day of which we feel, with piety and devotion, not alone the Fatherhood of God, but the brotherhood of man.

REAL ESTATE STIMULANT

It is generally recognized that real estate in this country has been unfairly taxed—that the burdens laid upon it have been out of line with the taxes on other forms of property. Even in many communities and districts where most of the wealth is in bank deposits, securities or other "intangibles," the land and buildings, being visible and defenseless, have been paying most of the public expenses.

There is a widespread effort now to correct this situation. Its immediate purpose is to relieve real estate from impossible burdens and save owners from mortgage foreclosures.

There may be other benefits less obvious, but no less valuable. As property taxes are reduced, the value of land and buildings tends to rise accordingly, because purchasers can afford to pay more when the carrying charges are less. Thus a logical result of easement in realty taxes should be a revival of the real estate market, particularly the market for homes. A revival in real estate throughout the country might do more good than a corresponding rise in stocks. It would ease real estate credit, encourage home-owning and stimuate the building industry.

THOSE WHO FELL BY THE WAYSIDE

Among the victims of the election are not a few who will be missed in Washington, or who would have done good service had they been elected. The Senators of experience and ability who fell by the wayside include Bingham of Connecticut, Moses of New Hampshire, Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader; Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Finance Committee, and Glenn of Illinois. Thus at a time when minority leadership is especially important it has been practically shot to pieces. Since Democratic leaders like Robinson of Arkansas and Swanson of Virginia survive, the advantage to the majority is obvious. Nor is the loss to the Republicans the only consideration. Untried men will succeed in many cases those whose broad acquaintance with public affairs was a national asset.

It must be regarded as a curious fact that, while the President carried both Connecticut and New Hampshire, Senators Bingham and Moses are on the casualty list. The loss of Senator Bingham, the most militant leader of the Wets, will be regarded by those who sympathize with his attitude as a calamity. The sharp tongue of Senator Moses will also be missed in debate. Senator Smoot, who is a strong upholder of protection, with much constructive legislation to his credit, leaves a place not easily filled. It was Lord Derby who described the suffrage bill of 1867 as "a leap in the dark." Such a leap has been taken here in many instances. Even if it be assumed that the new men are equal in ability to the old, their immediate opportunities are far less.

The overturn in the composition of the House will bring a larger number of novices to the front. A Speaker with a gift for leadership might whip them into shape; but Mr. Garner, judging by his record, can hardly be credited with this gift. An overwhelming majority is a danger to any Administration and this danger Mr. Roosevelt can not expect to escape. Thus the Democrats will be on trial during the next two years to an unusual degree. For the sake of the Nation it may be hoped that they will rise to the occasion.

THANKSGIVING CONTRASTS

In embodying in his Thanksgiving proclamation that of the first president in commemoration of his bi-centennial birthday anniversary President Hoover demonstrates by comparison how much his own generation has to be thankful for. George Washington found reasons for national gratitude; there are far greater reasons today.

There is still domestic tranquility despite the provocations to disorder that people less patient and less self-reliant might have found in the circumstances of the last few years. The pressure of sectional and bloc interests have not disrupted our domestic union. Civil liberty prevails in the United States while representative government gives way to dictatorships in other parts of the world.

Though heavy clouds hang over the land and grave national problems seem to defy solution, these anxious days would have seemed carefree to Washington on his first Thanksgiving Day as his country's chief.

Those who have, this year have much to be thankful for and those who have not can be thankful that their neighbors and fellow countrymen have protected them from want. And the nation can give thanks that it is again seeing the light after three dismal years of failure and futility.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

THE POOR DEVIL

He was an officer and he had a wound in his foot. So I put him on the front seat of the ambulance with me. . . . He seemed eager to get from the front, but I didn't think very much of that. Many a wounded man seems glad that he's wounded and out of the madness of the front line. He was different, however. There was a strain about him that was disturbing.

And just before I started my engine, a stretcher bearer—tough, steady, a French peasant—came up to me and jerked his thumb at the officer on the front seat and whispered: "That fellow over there shot himself. He couldn't stand it. He went out into the cabbage patch behind that farmhouse and shot himself in the foot. Poor devil!"

* * *

So that was it!

He couldn't stand the thought of going up to the front and taking his share. He didn't want to duck when a machine gun opened up on him. He didn't want to go flop on his belly when he heard the whistle of a shell. He didn't want to go hungry, didn't want to thirst, didn't want to be wounded, didn't want to die. . . . Well, who does want those things? Not I, certainly. Not anybody.

So we bumped down the rough road, and he chattered all the way. Hysterically, boastfully. He didn't know, either, that anybody else knew his shame. He thought he was safe, and that his would would be accepted as "honorable."

I wondered and wondered about him, absently listening to him and answering his questions. What had made him do it? Why? Why? Why? I studied him when he wasn't looking, let my eyes wander over his high forehead, long nose, quivering mouth. . . . And at last I told myself that the man beside me had too much imagination—and not enough.

He could imagine things that hadn't yet happened to him. He could see himself wounded, suffering, dying, all too clearly. Trying to live too many moments at the same time—this safe moment, that dangerous moment, that moment of death, all together. So he went to pieces. Blew up like a worn out tire.

I understand that. I'd seen it, come close to it myself.

But he didn't have enough imagination to see that afterwards, after he'd taken that desperately easy way, he'd have to live with himself all the rest of his life.

* * *

He'd carry that leg around with him. Every time he saw it he'd see himself putting a bullet in it. He'd remember himself doing that. He wouldn't be able to get away from that. Not ever. Not ever as long as he lived. . . . He could imagine dying, but he couldn't imagine living. . . . And that's what the old stretcher-bearer must have meant when he called this man a "poor devil."

He WAS a poor devil. As we are all poor devils who carry self-inflicted wounds, and shrink from what life might do to us and to worse than that to ourselves. . . . So we came at last to a field hospital and he thanked me courteously and saluted me precisely and hobbled away, out of my life and into his haunted future. Poor devil!

CONSTRUCTIVE IDEAS

You are given to making fiery, drastic statements.

A great deal of what you say you'd do, is all talk.

In fact you like to hear yourself talk and give very little thought to what might happen if you were taken seriously.

Don't you want to be thought well balanced?

Can you afford to be considered a "light-weight"?

Why dramatize yourself to no real purpose?

Do you like to hear the question asked, "who said so", when some of your talk is reported and then when your name is mentioned hear the exclamation—"Oh well, that does not mean much."

Not a very dignfied position for one who wishes to be thought something in the community.

Of course you have a rather scrappy disposition, but you could curb it.

You like a good fight and so do some others.

But a good fight is not a perfectly irresponsible antagonism.

You need self control.

If you know certain things are wrong and have some constructive ideas as to how to remedy them, get yourself together and get a hearing some way.

Most folk are willing to listen to constructive ideas without malice.

LINES FOR ARMISTICE DAY, 1932

Comrades in the Argonne sleeping
'Neath the poppies and the crosses,
Do you hear us sighing, weeping
Over little money losses?

Comrades in the Argonne lying,
Do you see us pale and frightened
By the need of self-denying
Wanting every burden lightened?

Comrades whom we left behind us,
Was the truth by you suspected?
Did you know the years would find us
By the need of toil, dejected?

Comrades, source of verbal pride for
Politicians, public speakers,
Did you understand you died for
Such a crowd of comfort-seekers?

Changes In Contract Bridge Creats Social Storm Clouds

Mathematical Requirements Of New Rules Arouse Uncertainty Among Ordinary Players But Promise To Maintain Warlike Features

New rules for contract bridge playing, formulated by co-operation among leading players of three nations, have aroused belligerent comments and have led to prophecies of social upheavals, but are believed likely to be accepted after the storm is over. Mathematical requirements are believed to be oppressive to ordinary players, but it is conceded that they contribute to the scientific accuracy of the game.

Remarking that the rules were "simultaneously adopted in New York, London and Paris" the CLEVELAND NEWS states: "By virtue of their sponsorship, they will have to be respected wherever the game is played. Under the circumstances the wise course is to familiarize one's self with them and forget the old rules with a minimum of delay and complaint. The certainty that the revision was made with no thought other than the game's improvement and is acceptable to the foremost bridge groups in three countries should facilitate this process. One hopes that these changes are final for the extended present, at least. With the difference of opinions on the conventions of the game to wrangle over, the rules themselves should remain fairly constant to avoid complete chaos in a million homes. The Whist club of New York, the Portland club of London and the Commission du Bridge of Paris might, incidentally, act in the interest of humanity by making mandatory a certain set of conventions, now that they have done over the rules."

Notwithstanding these peaceful comments, the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL recognizes a major issue before the people, with the comment that "already the bridge experts of Cleveland have declared a revolt against the new rules." That paper quotes the Cleveland insurgents as declaring that they "resent the action of making new contract rules for the world without consulting other bridge clubs throughout the country." The Journal quotes the Cleveland protest further as charging that the new regulations were devised "for gambling purposes." That paper concludes: "There will have to be new score cards and other things—altogether quite a noticeable turnover in new business, through the compulsion of players by the new rules of the game. Considering the financial side of the issue alone it seems to us that the Cleveland protest is well justified. As Americans we ought to stand by the principle of 'no taxation without representation'."

"We can look back over the mutations of social customs for centuries," says the ATLANTA JOURNAL, "without finding a comparable cataclysm, not even when contract bridge smothered the mild and unprotesting game of auction out of existence. For that was gradual, almost a painless process," continues The Journal, "but this transformation in the scoring system is a sudden and violent phenomenon. Thousands of people are plunged into bitter debate over the new penalties for undertricks doubled but not vulnerable, because, having only just learned what it is to be vulnerable, they can best exhibit their erudition by affecting a profound and secret understanding of the principles involved. * * * We foresee, as one of the many ramified results of the new order, an awakened national interest in mathematics; and among those who can master calculus probably will displace the readers of the five-foot shelf as social darlings, because they will be able to compute scores without recourse to logarithms. * * * After all, they have not yet done to bridge what the rule-makers have done, say to football. The primary principles remain the same. A man can still take time out and drag his partner into a dark corner without being restricted as to the method of extermination. * * * Particularly have the masters shown a fine sense of propriety in not seeking to regulate in any respect a mans' dealings with his wife during and after the game. We must credit them with this mildness, and hope for the best. There is no court of appeal."

"There are many bridge players who sit in the outer circles, those who play for the mere fun of the thing or because it is regarded as a social accomplishment," says the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "who will grumble because of these new mathematical calculations dropped into a season which should be devoted to the study of initiative proposals, candidates' qualifications and football prospects . It has taken them a long time to learn how to score and, even now, they are pleased when an opponent annexes the pad and does the bookkeeping. Is there really something inspiring in the fact that today some millions of persons start learning a new way to keep score at bridge?"

"But what a joyous and exciting winter lies ahead for the bridge fan!" exclaims the DANBURY EVENING NEWS. "No bridge addict likes peace. If he did he wouldn't like bridge. Your true bridge fan is combative by nature, a born fighter, a zestful antagonist and a rip-roaring battler. All the old arguments have been threshed about for so long that they were worn ragged, and it was getting a bit difficult to get up a really new reason for a bridge-quarrel outside of actual play. Now come the new rules, and bridge murder, assault and battery and mayhem are imminent. Wow, what a joyous bridge-winter!"

"If the world, after all, is going to settle down to an ordered routine,' thinks the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, "perhaps contract bridge is not a bad place to begin. What makes the bridge concordat all the more cheering is the fact that it involves an international agreement. The great bridge-playing nations have agreed on undoubled not vulnerable undertrick penalties. This is more than the great battleship-building nations have been able to do with regard to armaments, and more than the great tariff-levying nations have achieved with regard to import duties. It is a start toward better things, and may mark a turn toward mutual understanding and cooperation."

By Rev. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.

THIS LIFE IS ONLY

A tragedy for those who have no imagination.
A reality for those who are willing to face the facts.
A farce for those who have not learned to serve.
A disappointment for those who seek only for themselves.
A ghastly joke for those who refuse responsibility.
A mystery for those who try to understand it without God.
A joy to those who forget themselves.

TRUE ENOUGH

"Just what good have you done to humanity?" asked the judge before passing sentence on the pickpocket.

"Well," replied the confirmed criminal, "I've kept three or four detectives working regularly."

Fourteenth Anniversary Of Signing Of Armistice Celebrated Fittingly

CHURCH SERVICES FOR LATE BUDDIES

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11. — Pittsburgh today celebrated the fourteenth anniversary of the Armistice in typical holiday fashion with mingled emotions of joy and sorrow.

Fifteen thousand "dough boys," their uniforms somewhat drabber than last year and their step slightly less firm, lined up at the command, "fall in", and the marines was represented.

Before the parade began memorial services for those who "didn't come back," were held in St. Kierans church in the form of a solemn high mass. Two trees honoring the sons of gold star mothers were to be planted by the Turtle Creek Valley Chapter this afternoon.

Banquets and dinner parties by the score were scheduled for tonight. At these there will be fought over again the battles of the Marne, Chateau-Thierry, St. Miehiel and others equally famous. Reminiscences, both happy and sad, will intermingle.

Private programs were planned for today by the thousands. Downtown Pittsburgh was closed up and all public schools released students for the day.

There's one consolation. Many a man who lost millions never had over $3.65 except in book profits.

Edmonds, sponsor of the act which sets salaries of public school teachers and regulates present distribution of state aid to school districts, did express agreement, however with the proposal for a ten per cent reduction in teachers' salaries and a moratorium on increments for the coming biennium, 1933-35.

COUNCIL TO MEET MONDAY

No Session Held Today Owing To Armistice Day Observance

Having met Thursday, city council did not meet in the city building today on account of Armistice Day. The next session will be held Monday. It is anticipated that the proposed ordinance aimed at alleged transient concerns which may wish to do business here will be given consideration. It is also possible that Solicitor White may render an opinion as to whether or not a temporary appointment to the police department may be made each 10 days.

Council must also take action soon on the proposed sale of $60,000 bonds. An ordinance creating a sinking fund has been adopted. However, before the bonds can be sold the state must grant approval. The bonds will be issued to pay off certificates, secured by liens. The certificates were issued to contractors who performed public improvements.

CASTLE COUNCIL HOLD FINE AFFAIR

UH HUH! THEY TOLD THEM SO, AND HOW LUCKY!

The razzberries were dished out in no small scoops when that "I Told You So" party of a downtown luncheon club of business and professional men came off at The Castleton after the election. The Roosevelts, though in the minority, spoke loud and long; the Hooverites just listened.

Absence didn't mean a thing to some of the Roosevelt members called out-of-town, for their forwarded letters and regrets arrived here in time for the luncheon. Several mailed their big "I Told You So's".

Before the election the Hoover majority had challenged the Roosevelts to a "razzberry" party of the biting flavor—the Hoover men weren't to do anything much more than listen But the Roosevelts got to say anything they pleased.

Plans were made for a big drive for members, also for a Past Senior Councillor's night, one month from last night. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

TO SAVE EGG YOLKS OR WHITES

When making an angel food cake, you may find making gold cake the same day too much cake all at once. Take the eight or ten egg yolks, drop in a medium-size salad dressing jar and screw cap on tight; keep in a cool place. They can be used to make the gold cake even one week or more later, with success. No crust forms on top the yolks. You can keep the whites the same way.

Thirsty Cow Dies Of Alcoholism

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. Nov. 11.—The loss of a cow that developed a taste for whisky and drank herself to death on mash is being lamented by William Bartlett, former Monroe county sheriff, at his home near here.

When Bartlett heard a calf bawling continually, he investigated and found the mother dead. Nearby were two barrels of mash, one of them half empty.

Authorities, who investigated, found evidence of mash having been cooked in several places, but apparently the still owners had moved immediately after cooking each supply.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

In diligence not slothful.—Rom. 12:11.

(The international uniform lesson on the above subject for Nov. 13, is Deut. 24:14, 15; Amos 5:6-15; Mark 6-3; Luke 12:13-21; 19:1-26; II Thess. 3-6-13; I Tim. 6:6-16, the Golden Text being Rom. 12-11, "In diligence not slothful.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

God always has had a heart for the laboring classes of all races. No unnecessary hardship was ever to be added to the burdens incident to their making their living. Regarding such matters as payment of wages when due his law demanded: "At his day thou shalt give him his hire, netiher shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it; lest he cry against thee unto the Lord, and it be sin unto thee."

Amos Champions Cause of Poor

The great social messages of such prophets as Amos reveal God's heart towards the poor and down trodden: Forasmuch therefore as ye trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat; ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; . . . for I know how manifold are your transgressions, and how mighty are your sins —ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and that turn aside the needy in the gate from their right . . . for it is an evil time."

Amos, himself a laboring man, denounced the national sin of the northern kingdom of Israel, which was oppression of the poor "because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes", "making the ephah small and the shekel great".

God's attitude towards the religion of a nation guilty of such social injustice Amos pictures in such strong terms as "I hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies, . . . I will not accept them, neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts. Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols". And when such messages against their social wrongs went unheeded the judgment of God fell speedily and effectively upon the nation in its destruction and captivity within 70 years of Amos' unheeded warning.

Those who oppress the poor may expect judgment without mercy from Jehovah.

Christ Dignifies Labor.

The dignity of manual labor as a means of livelihood is established by the fact that the Son of God was unashamed to be known as the carpenter of Nazareth. Most of his parables dealt with common laborers and their daily tasks. The rich fool with his bursting barns and famished soul he condemned because he gave himself solely to making a living and failed utterly to make a life. His was the covetousness that failed to discorn that "a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he posseth".

He commands diligence at one's task in his parable of the pounds. Here two servants report the result of their application of themselves to their tasks, using but seven or eight words to relate their successes, while another servant entrusted with equal opportunity makes an alibi for his failure, which, in our Bible, consumes 41 words.

Labor and Bread.

St. Paul dignified manual labor as a tent-maker and taught that all men "work and eat their own bread", which certainly implies that every man be given an opportunity to find employment rather than be forced to accept charity as a means of livelihood. When this inalienable right of the Creator's endowment is denied great groups of men it is because others, in their own covetousness, have ignored his words that "the love of money is the root of all kinds of evil." In the business of making a living let us seek to live and let live.

Father And Son Are Slugged By Thugs, Lose $350

Thugs Trail Merchant To Home And Stage Daring Robbery Near Burgettstown

(International News Service)

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 11.—While an invalid mother lay ill in bed on the floor above, two armed and masked bandits early today slugged a father and son into unconsciousness in their home here and escaped with $350 in loot taken from the father's pockets.

State police said the robbers apparently had trailed one of their victims, Adolph Hortivitz, 50, a department store proprietor, home from his store, three miles away.

Shortly after Hortivitz arrived home, the pair forced their way into the house. A daughter, Mary, 20, was alone when they entered. She screamed and was knocked down. Hortivitz and his son, Herbert 24, rushed in and were slugged over the head with the butt end of revolvers.

The money was removed from Hortivitz's pockets.

Says Movies Have Intoxicating Effect

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia. Nov. 11—There's no difference in going to a movie and getting drunk, in the opinion of Prof. H. W. Bohlman, of Drake University. That is, there's no difference in the psychological reaction in the individual.

"Getting drunk affords a temporary means of escape for a person who is tired," the professor said, "and the movies offer similar escape. Both throw the indulger into an unreal situation.

"I do not mean that movies are a substitute for getting drunk, but psychologically both effects of escape are the same."

Another institution marred by professionalism is panhandling.

PROFESSOR WARNS BLONDES TO AVOID EXPOSURE TO SUN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Blonde beauties should avoid the fashionable sun-tan.

Such is the advice of Professor Austin Clark, curator of the division of echinoderms of the National Museum.

Professor Clark, believes that blond races were never meant to indulge in excessive doses of sunlight and that the present enthusiasm for sun bathing will have disastrous results.

"Nature protected the races which had to put up with constant sunlight," he said. "They are all dark skinned, but blondes, however have no such natural protection and their skin cannot endure prolonged exposure to the suns rays.

Professor Clark attributes the rapid increase in cancer during the past few years to the sun craze.

Mrs. McCormick Unable To View Last Great Work

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Edith Rockfeller McCormick's last great work, publication of the "Rockfeller McCormick New Testament," was completed too late for her to see its accomplishment.

The new testament was published by the University of Chicago Press Aug. 24, and a copy was rushed to Mrs. McCormick's apartment in the Drake Hotel. She was in a coma and died the following day.

The testament is the reproduction, financed by Chicago's late "first lady," of an illuminated thirteenth century Byzantine manscript. It is the Greek version. The original manuscript was the property of Mrs. McCormick.

The manuscript has survived since two centuries before the fall of the Byzantine empire and the Capture of Constantinople by the Turks. It was made in the palace of Michael Palaeolgus, Emperior of the East. In establishing its period, experts found the manuscript to have been made at about the same time as a Paris manuscript, "Coislin 200," presented to Louis IX in 1260.

The manuscript was discovered by Prof. Edgar J. Goodspeed of the University of Chicago in 1927. It is valued at $25,000.

LONDON URCHIN IS MASTER THIEF AT AGE OF NINE

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 11.—One of history's youngest mutineers is a nine-year-old London urchin, a bad boy with a past whose, "amazing career" was recounted in Juvenile court here.

The charge which led him to court was the theft of a bicycle, in which act he was caught red-handed. The charge was reduced to wandering, but details of his career of crime came out during the hearing.

At six he was already an accomplished thief. To his record belonged the thefts of sweets from shops, bicycles, tricycles and perambulators. Then there was the brutal murder of a cat.

When put to bed by his mother, he would later escape, go off on a series of thefts, and return at two in the morning.

The precocious gangster has been sent to four different reform schools at the latter of which he engineered a mutiny. He struck a female member of the staff with a pint bottle, and escaped with twenty other boys whose leadership he acquired.

He was ordered to another reform school and is to be medically examined.

COP'S KISS HALTS BUSY CITY TRAFFIC

PARIS—A kiss that paralyzed traffic in the heart of the downtown section of Paris was administered by a petite Parisienne to a very stern looking "cop" directing vehicles and pedestrians in the square in front of the Opera.

The charming lady, in a pretty frock and a perky hat, started out as if to jay-walk, heading directly for the minion of the law.

When she reached her destination she rose on tiptoe, smiled and puckered her pink lips. Traffic halted, the copper stooped and kissed the lady on both cheeks, after which she beamed broadly and proceeded diagonally to the opposite curb. The hero of the episode blew a loud blast on his traffic whistle, drew his face into stern lines and yelled out, "Get a move on, there: hurry up!"

CHINESE TARIFFS SOAR AS RESULT OF HUGE IMPORTS

(International News Service)

PEIPING, Nov. 11. — The returns of the Chinese Maritime Customs shows that China, presumably an agricultural nation, imported three million times more wheat than it exported. The same was practically true of all grains. Therefore, the Government has decided to do something about it.

The Maritime Customs likewise announces a deficit of close to five million dollars for the month of July. This and the future prospects of reduced revenues due to the Manchukuo seizure resulted in the sudden lifting of tariff rates to heights unheard of before in China.

Famous "Lost" Gold Mine Believed Found

WORLAND, Wyo., Nov. 11.—Two Worland men believed they may have re-discovered the celebrated Lost Cabin mine, one of the most famous "lost" gold mines in the history of the West.

M. C. Burt, and M. R. Newinger while hunting in the Tensleep mountains found evidences of old gold mining activity.

The tale of the Lost Cabin mine dates back to 1864 when two men whose names have long since been forgotten appeared at Fort Laramie with $7,000 in dust and nuggets and related how they had found an enormously rich deposit. Two years later they announced their intention to go back to the mine. They disappeared and were never seen again.

Since that time there has been almost a constant search by prospectors for the mine, but it never had been re-discovered.

WOULD HURL COCOANUTS TO U. S. WITH GUNS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. — The transportation troubles of one industry would be solved by a suggestion made in all seriousness to Jose Coronado, charge d'Affairs of the Colombian Legation here.

The suggestion was that all cocoanuts produced in South and Central America be amassed at Panama and shot thence by huge guns to the various cities of North Carolina. Stretched over each city would be a great net to catch the cocoanuts.

Senor Coronado is quite willing that anyone utilize the idea.

Moonstruck Ducks Commit Suicide

(International News Service)

PETERSBURG, Ind., Nov. 11. — How the perils of modern wild ducks are increased by civilization was demonstrated when seventeen of the birds were found dead on a stretch of concrete pavement here. Willard A. Fleming, well-known duck hunter of this city, gave a plausible explanation as follows:

"A gright and nearly full moon was shining during the night. The concrete from high in the air resembled a silver stream of water due to the reflection of the moon's rays on the oil-spattered surface. The ducks, thinking to land on the peaceful silvery stream, dived down. They struck the pavement with such force that all were killed."

WOMEN STUDENTS REACH COLLEGE SOONER THAN MEN

(International News Service)

BOSTON Mass.—Women students reach college at an earlier age than their fellow male students.

This was revealed in tables prepared at Boston University showing the average ages of men and women students in the ten departments.

Of the more than 14,000 students approximately half are women whose studies are of the same type as those of their male fellow students, but in almost all of the undergraduate schools the girl freshman is one or two years younger than her male classmates.

MONEY RAISED IS USED FOR RELIEF

General Chairman Clarence A. Patterson announced today that all arrangements have been completed for the annual Poppy Day sale by the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion.

One hundred and seventy girls from the Senior High school, and Ben Franklin, George Washington, and Mahoning Junior highs, will start out early tomorrow morning to distribute the poppies throughout the city.

The money derived from this annual event will be used by the post during the coming year for relief work among needy veterans of the community.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary will serve luch for the girls taking part in the sale at noon, while an able committee has been organized to furnish transportation to various parts of the city for the different teams.

SCOUTMEN CREATE OWN MODEL TROOP

See Benefits In Exemplary Action Thursday Night; Now "In Troop'

One of the best meetings ever held by local scout leaders was the session Thursday night at the home of Scoutmaster R. C. Lutz, Highland avenue, the occasion being the regular monthly meeting. It developed, however, into far-reaching plans for the betterment of scouter work in the whole north district. Many plans were talked over, and some of the work definitely arranged for is given below.

Hereafter the Scout Leaders' club will be organized as a troop; with a senior patrol leader, patrol leaders, and, (as the club meets in various places each month) a "host" scoutmaster serving as scoutmaster of the troop; hereafter known as the "Headquarters Troop." The leaders themselves made up the following lineup last night; and patrol leaders are busy getting in touch with their members. Patrol members are as follows:

Irwin Ropp, patrol leader; members, E. B. Hawk, Harry Miles, Wylie Wallace, W. L. Rainey, Jack Hulme, John Hite, Harry Orr, Harold McCulloch, Ed. O. Raney, Kenneth Garratt, Clyde McCready.

Sidney Smith, patrol leader, William Wallace, Jack Hainsworth, Dr. R. C. Lutz, John Wilson, Omar Fink, Howard Bott, Dr. T. J. McFate, Harry Voland, Tom Farrow, Dr. Gillespie, Wesley Drake.

Arthur S. Hainsworth, patrol leader; A. Ron McCoy, Harry Culliford, Robert Allen, Earl Ruby, F. W. Sizer, Harry Jermakowicz, Ralph Montgomery, Elmer Tinstman, Joe J. Davies, T. Gwyn Lewis (next choice).

Earle K. Herbert, patrol leader; Ray Zeigler, Sandy Howard, Robert Griffith, Ed. Maley, Peter Grittie, Howard Barge, Owen Fox, Alfonse Szmaiej, Howard Kirk, Jr., James Ferrante, Claire Locke.

These patrols will function as patrols in regular monthly meetings, and through using this system, the men will familiarize themselves with details of patrol and troop work in intervals of training course. This form of organization will also make for closer fellowship and follow-up in the leader ranks.

Meet In December

Commissioner R. F. Davis will act as the "host scoutmaster" for the monthly meeting for December, to be held on Wednesday evening, December 7, at the Highland U. P. church, where Mr. Davis acts as scoutmaster of Veteran 18. As commissioner, Mr. Davis then welcomed these new men into club membership; Messers. E. B. Hawk, Robert Griffith, Claire Locke, Earlt Ruby, F. W. Sizer, Kenneth Garratt; and gave them copies of the club constitution.

A representative of the Lawrence County Garden club appeared before the meeting and presented a plan for a bird house contest in parts of the county which are organized with the Garden club. Dr. Lutz appointed Harry Miles, A. S. Hainsworth and E. B. Hawk as a committee to draw up rules for this.

A number of other matters were discussed including the coming training course at Camp Phillips next week Saturday, securing more judges for field meets, getting troops more interested in reading the official magazine, and so on. The men adjourned at a late hour, and after refreshments were served, left with a vote of thanks to Dr. Lutz for his hospitality.

THIEVES HELP FARMER HUSK POPCORN CROP

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 11. — Thieves this year helped Joseph Davis, owner of the pop corn field on the edge of the city, make a financial success of his crop.

Each year Davis has been forced to hire help to get his entire crop husked. This year with a heavy yield the labor problem was something tremendous.

Then one night Davis was awakened by a noise in his popcorn field. He saw five men at work and called the police. The intruders were arrested after they had husked a large pile of corn.

Davis now figures that with the help the self-employed huskers gave him it will be unnecessary for him to hire any hands this year.

Ask That Local Labor Be Used On Post Office

Chamber Of Commerce Board Takes Action At Meeting Held On Thursday

NEW INDUSTRIES ARE INVESTIGATED

Bidders for the construction of the New Castle Post Office will be urged to use local labor wherever possible by the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, a resolution to this effect having been passed at the meeting of the Board of Directors Thursday afternoon.

The business session, which followed the usual luncheon at The Castleton was replete with interesting features.

A report on the efforts of the organization in organizing Lawrence County into one County-wide tax unit for the purpose of making an effort to reduce Governmental costs and to prevent increase of taxes in the future, was submitted by President Genkinger, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce Tax Committee.

A report was received from Fred L. Rentz on the activities of the Greater Pennsylvania Council with respect to the development of the Beaver and Shenango Valleys.

Notice of this action on the part of the Board of Directors, relative to the Post Office will be forwarded to all of the bidders and every possible effort be employed to have the successful bidder to whom the contract is let, comply with the request outlined.

The Chamber has received inquiry from a number of prospective manufacturers requesting location in New Castle and committees were appointed to make investigations of these companies who may request assistance from the community. These investigations will be gone into by the new Industries committee of the Chamber of Commerce and every assistance rendered where advisable.

The Chamber of Commerce voted in the affirmative on U. S. Chamber of Commerce Referendum No. 62, which was a report of a special committee of the U. S. Chamber on our railroads.

This was one of the most interesting meetings held in some time and one of great benefit to the community. The meeting was presided over by President L. G. Genkinger and those in attendance in addition to the President were as follows: Directors Thos. H. Hartman, A. C. Hoyt, J. H. Lamb, Jas. K. Love, W. F. Moody, T. F. Morehead, Fred L. Rentz, Thos. W. Dickey, H. B. Richards, and Secretary Chilton. The directors unable to attend being Hon. Jas. A. Chambers, W. W. Duff, P. J. Flaherty, Hon. Geo. T. Weingartner, H. L. Gordon and R. J. Tully.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels, you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost.

Secure from Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add 1-4 pint hot water and a little sugar. One tablespoonful four times a day should quickly relieve distressing catarrhal head noises, clogged nostrils, difficult breathing and dropping mucous, and improve hearing. All victims of catarrhal deafness or head noises should give Parmint a trial.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

FORESTRY MEETING

Frank Murphy, forestry specialist from State College, will demonstrate the filing and setting of cross-cut saws and discuss reforestation programs at a meeting on the farm of R. D. Walter, Mahoning township, Friday, November 18, at 1:30 p. m.

Persons attending this meeting will have the opportunity of seeing over 20 acres of young pines planted for Christmas tree and reforestation purposes. Some of these trees have been planted for nine years and are making exceptionally good growth.

Everyone interested in reforestation program is invited to attend the meeting.

COUNTIES ENGAGE IN RURAL DRAMATICS

Lawrence county is one of 40 counties having rural dramatics tournaments this year.

The state is divided into 18 districts, county winners competing in district tournaments. Lawrence county is in the same district with Beaver and Washington counties.

About 275 communities in the state are represented in the amateur dramatics activities, which are a part of the recreation program planned and directed by volunteer committees representing rural organizations of these counties.

Four Lawrence county groups are entered in the tournament, including Plaingrove grange, Westfield grange, New Bedford grange and East Brook Parent-Teachers association. The local tournament will be held the latter part of November. The committee in charge of this year's tournament includes H. A. Leslie, chairman; Irwin Ropp and Frances Fullerton.

CLEAN CHICK METHODS INCREASE EGG YIELD

Egg production depends upon the practices followed in growing the pullets. Success or failure, as measured by yearly egg yields, is closely associated with methods of rearing chicks.

Figures obtained from farm flock owners who cooperated in keeping records of their poultry enterprises show these results. Where the grow healthy pullet plan was followed except for clean chick and clean ground 22 per cent of the chicks died before maturity and the egg production of the surviving pullets was 134.2 eggs a bird. Where the entire healthy pullet plan was followed the mortality was only 7.9 per cent and the birds in production laid 164.3 eggs each.

Apparently, the additional 30 eggs a bird obtained by the flock owners who used a complete sanitation system can be traced to the extra precautions observed. Sanitation puts eggs into the basket and brings more egg money into the poultryman's pocketbook.

GIVE THE HOME GARDEN FALL HOUSE CLEANING

Many Lawrence county families next year will lean heavily on the home garden for a large part of their food supply in the interest of both health and economy.

To obtain the best results next year, the garden should be thoroughly raked this fall and the plant material destroyed by burning, especially if insects and diseases were troublesome the past season. This will also improve the winter appearance of the garden.

Many gardeners spade or plow part of the garden in the fall, usually in early November, and leave it in the rough over winter without leveling or raking the surface. Next spring this part will dry more quickly than the unspaded or unplowed portion. Then the surface may be raked and early spinach, lettuce, beets and other crops sown before the rest of the garden can be handled.

If the home gardener raises his own plants in boxes in the house or in the hotbed, he should prepare good soil this fall and store it for use during late winter. On-third top soil, one-third sand and one-third well-rotted manure or leaf mold will make a good soil for this purpose. Some growers preper one-half top soil and one-half well-rotted manure or leaf mold.

Clean out the hotbed pit this fall, so it will be ready for use early in March. Store the sash in a dry place during the winter after making sure they are tight. Paint the sash frames with white lead and oil if they need it.

WINTER CARE AND FEED NEEDED BY DAIRY COWS

Dairy cows need special care and protection during the late fall and early winter months. There is little feed left in pastures at this season of the year and if cows are allowed to run all day in pastures and be exposed to cold wind or to rain they are almost sure to lose in flesh and to drop in milk flow.

It is difficult to bring cows back to a full flow of milk once they drop because of under-feeding or exposure, so that even temporary neglect may result in marked decrease in the total amount of milk the cow will produce during her lactation period. It is very important under present conditions in the milk market to keep costs in milk production at the lowest possible point. Any practice or neglect that results in lowering the vitality of the cow or in reducing her milk yield is certain to increase the cost of producing milk and so will lessen or destroy the opportunity for profit in the business.

The condition of the cows and their milk flow should be carefully watched now. Feed should be increased as needed and winter care and attention for the herd started soon.

PLANT LOCUSTS FOR POSTS

Growing fence posts on the farm is an economical way of supplying a repeated need.

Locust is the best tree available for this purpose. Its advantages are rapid growth, long lasting quality, profuse blooming which yields heavily in honey, soil holding and soil building. The best and cheapest program for getting fence posts starts with planting the seedlings or seed.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COMMON CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation gets its grip on a person almost unawares. It often starts with such little things. Headaches. Listlessness. Bad complexion. Unpleasant breath. If unchecked, it may seriously impair your health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this danger by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of iron for the blood.

Biological tests demonstrate that the "bulk" in bran is similar to that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than taking unpleasant patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Serious cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Armistice Day Class Programs Given At School

Armistice Day was observed by a number of class programs at Mahoning school Thursday. No assembly was conducted, the classes preparing and presenting their own individual programs. They were of a varied nature, based on the signing of the armistice.

Throughout the entire week many parents of students visited the school, watching the classes in operation. The invitation was extended to the parents and friends as a feature of National Education Week.

The school is closed today, this being a holiday as observed by the schools of New Castle.

Children's Books To Be On Display

Book Week, November 13 to 19, will be observed with a special exhibit of children's books at the Mahoningtown library, Mrs. Gladys Johnston, branch librarian, reports.

New books for children will be displayed on one shelf of the local library Monday and Thursday and parents are invited in to look them over. "The Book Shelf," a catalogue of books, will also be there for the use of anyone who wishes to look up titles of new and interesting books, most of which are included in the Mahoningtown branch or New Castle main libraries.

Observations In 7th Ward

Frank Dattilo can make some very artistic and pretty table lamps, entirely out of small pieces of wood. ...Remember the two young women hikers who stopped here about two months ago, enroute to Detroit, Mich.? They were here again yesterday on their way back home to Tyrone, Pa., hitch-hiking, of course. They reported having a fine trip. Were dressed in regulation hiking uniforms....A couple of local hunters, so it is claimed, worked their dogs so hard the other day they had to carry them home. Hunting dogs have to be kept in good condition, just like horses or automobiles, it seems, or they don't stand the gaff.

Mable Wilson Lodge Has Tureen Dinner

The members of the Mabel Wilson Lodge met in the Malta Hall Thursday evening for a 6:30 dinner, after which a business and lodge session was held.

Plans were made for initiation at the November 24 meeting and also for the Christmas party, which will be in the form of a tureen dinner on December 8, with an exchange of gifts among the members.

The committee in charge of Thursday evening's dinner included Mrs. William Elgass, Mrs. William Baltes and Mrs. William Craven.

MAHONING BOOK CLUB

A delightful afternoon was that of Thursday for members of the Mahoning Book club. They were entertained by Mrs. W. H. Downing at her home on Newell avenue. Fancywork interested the group.

Luncheon was served to the 12 members by Mrs. Downing, assisted by Mrs. D. C. Schnebly.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. F. W. Guy, North Liberty street, the date to be announced later.

G. I. A. MEETS

With the lodge president, Mrs. Fred Kelley of Youngstown, presiding, a business meeting of Grand International auxiliary was conducted Thursday afternoon in the city building. Among other things a report on a recent card party was presented.

It was decided to make a change in date for the next meeting, since the regular lodge date falls on Thanksgiving. The auxiliary will meet on the day following, or Friday, November 25.

NEW BOOKS HERE

Several novels, volumes that have not been included in the Mahoningtown branch library before, were added to the shelves here yesterday. They are:

Saturday's Child—Norris.
Beauty and the Beast—O. Norris.
At the Mercy of Tiberius—Wilson.
Rider of San Felipe—Charles H. Snow.
So Wise We Grow—Christine Parmenter.

Several replacements were added also. The above mentioned books are in the free collection.

DEMOCRATS FACE PROBLEM OF MEETING PROMISES

Plan To Enact New Legislation

Will Attempt To Have "Lame Duck" Congress Act On Some Measures

REPEAL PROGRAM IS FACING DELAY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—A drive to enact some of the Democratic platform pledges this winter was planned today by party leaders, apparently in hope of avoiding a special session of the new congress next spring.

Despite their amazing majorities in the new house and senate, Democratic chieftains appeared to favor action by the "lame duck" congress on some of the most important legislative measures pledged in their party platform. They apparently fear the effect of launching the Roosevelt administration with even a friendly congress on the president's hands.

This plan would require the balancing of the budget, submission of a repeal amendment on the prohibition issue, legalization of beer, extension of federal credits to farm mortgages and depositors in closed banks, probably authorization of Philippine independence and possibly enlargement of the federal public works program.

The most important issue—so far as Mr. Roosevelt's administration is concerned—will be to balance the budget. This can be accomplished at the December session by rigid economy in appropriations, and by increasing federal revenue through a tax on legalized beer. If this is done, President-elect Roosevelt can spend six months in the White House virtually free from the bugaboo of a Democratic treasury deficit.

The pledge of the Democrats to submit repeal of prohibition may meet with considerable delay. Neither the old nor new congress favors outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Any prolonged fight will kill the measure at the short session.

The pledge to aid farm mortgagees can be met by extending credit facilities of the reconstruction finance corporation. The cooperation already has started relief activities along that line. The promise to help depositors in closed banks can be fulfilled by passing the bill long pending in the senate.

All other pledges require action by the executive departments for the present.

The Democrats very likely will let the tariff alone until the long session beginning in December, 1933. For one thing, inequities can be corrected by the present tariff commission, if importers can prove discriminations. For another, the Democrats will dislike tackling the tariff—so as many administrations have been wrecked by passing new tariff bills.

HENDERSONVILLE PIONEER IS DEAD

GROVE CITY, Nov. 11.—Joseph E. Henderson, 70, of Hendersonville, died Thursday following a long illness. Henderson for many years was an oil leasor employed by the Mellon interests of Pittsburgh.

He is survived by three sisters; Mrs. M. W. Mtichell of Hendersonville at whose home the demise occurred, Mrs. A. E. Wharton and Mrs. George Infield, both of Jackson Centre.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m., with Rev. Mock in charge. Interment will be at Hendersonville.

Socialist Candidate Is Disappointed Man

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—With late election returns indicating he apparently received only slightly more than 750,000 votes, Norman Thomas, Socialist party candidate for president, admitted today he was disappointed at the size of the vote so far tabulated.

Socialist party leaders had hoped for a vote of at least 2,000,000, while Thomas himself declared he had expected more than 1,000,000.

In 1920 when the Socialist vote reached its peak, the late Eugene V. Debs, then presidential nominee of the party, received 919,799 votes.

Thomas, back from Milwaukee where he spent election day, reiterated his belief that president-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt was given a large part of the protest vote he expected to poll.

Latest reports covering less than half the country's districts, credited Thomas with 373,692 ballots.

SOME INSURANCE PREMIUMS ARE TO BE GIVEN BOOST

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 11.—Life insurance companies generally throughout the country plan a 4 per cent increase in premium charges on all new life insurance written on lives of those who have attained or passed aged 40 it was learned today from a large insurance company.

The increase will not affect policies in force nor premium rates of policies on lives under aged 40.

Deputy Sheriff Kills Thug And Wounds Another

Los Angeles Deputy Suffers Probably Fatal Wound In Gun Battle

ALLEGED GAMBLER BEING TORTURED

"Torture Bandits" Invade Home And Overpower Deputy And Four Others

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—Trapped in the hold-up of a gambling house by "torture bandits", Rudolph G. "Cookie" Vejar, veteran deputy sheriff, shot and killed one bandit, wounded another and was himself probably fataly wounded in a spectacular gun battle early today.

The shooting started when Vejar, lying on the floor under the menace of a pistol in the hand of one bandit, was unable to stand the groans of Harvey Crosby, alleged gambler, whose feet were being burned by the second bandit in an effort to make Crosby disclose where the money was kept.

Deputy Draws Gun

Vejar, known as one of the fastest men in the Southwest with a gun, took the long chance. He whipped out his revolver and shot and killed the bandit covering him, identified by police as R. D. McAllister of San Francisco.

As Vejar drew his revolver the second bandit slugged Crosby and wheeled and shot Vejar in the mouth as the deputy's gun roared.

Despite the wound, however, Vejar fired again and wounded the second bandit, who escaped in a taxicab.

When the bandits entered the place they made Crosby, Vejar, Ben Harris, an employe of the place, and a woman, Evelyn Daughney, lie down on the floor under threat of death.

Assailant Of Melnyk Not At Hearing

Claim For Compensation By Bank Employe Not Yet Settled

Harry Kuzenczak, assailant of Joseph Melnyk, was not taken from the county jail yesterday for questioning before State Workmen's Compensation Referee L. E. Christley. Instead, a copy of the confession of the shooting alleged to have been made by Kuzenczak was given the referee. Melnyk was questioned at his residence.

Melnyk is in a critical condition. Through his attorney H. A. Wilkinson he is suing for compensation.

He was an employe of the Peoples Savings & Trust Company.

The whole question of compensation it is said hinges on whether or not Melnyk was shot during the course of his employment.

Officials of the company carrying the bank's compensation are trying to show he was shot on account of personal reasons.

Attorney Wilkison hopes to show that he was shot while in the course of his employment, it being reported Melnyk was enroute to get his automobile then secure mail for the bank from the postoffice when the shooting occurred. His auto had been parked in South Jefferson street.

The shooting occurred at the corner of South Jefferson and East Washington streets.

Proposed Ordinance If Adopted Will Affect Transient Merchants

WILL BE SUBMITTED TO COUNCIL SOON

City Solicitor Robert White has drafted a proposed ordinance for early introduction into council which will regulate the doing of business here and which requires all persons entering into or commencing to carry on any retail or wholesale business to register with the police and to give bond in certain instances. The proposed ordinance also provides a penalty for violation. It is not known what action council will take until the measure is presented.

The high points of the bill provide that it shall be unlawful for any person to enter into or commence to conduct any business, whether wholesale or retail, within the city or to go about from door to door soliciting orders, exhibiting goods or transacting any other business or affair with the residents without first having registered with the police chief.

Another section provides that the city shall keep a registry book and all persons required to must register. The registration shall consist of their name, permanent address, description of the person and he or she must state the places of residence for two years preceding the registration. The chief may take finger prints and photograph the persons who register.

The registration shall include an exact statement of the character of the business to be conducted and the parts of the city in which it is to be conducted and the length of time it is to be continued. If a person acts as an agent he shall be required to give full details as to the identity of his principal.

May Take Fingerprints

When any person has registered he shall be given by the police an identification card. It must be countersigned by the chief of police. A photograph of the person must be pasted on the card.

Another section provides that when a person registering shall appear to be starting in business for the first time here and does not have a permanent residence sufficient to qualify him to vote, he shall be required, before he can register to do business, to file a bond in the sum of $500.

It shall be so conditioned that if the person shall not continue to conduct the business for at least six months he shall pay to the city all the taxes and license fees accrued and due to the city by him, because of his having engaged in a transient business without a license.

It is provided, however, that any person who shall pay all the license fees legally required of him, shall not be required to enter into any bond as a condition precedent to his registering under the proposed ordinance.

The last section of the proposed city law provides that any person who violates the ordinance shall, upon conviction, be subject to the payment of not more than $300.00 and costs of prosecution and upon default of payment can be imprisoned for 90 days.

"THE DIAMOND BRAND"

Interest Shown In Book Display

The Pre-Book Week exhibit at the New Castle free public library has attracted the interest of numerous young readers of the ninth grade and senior high school ages.

Books, many of which have just been published, with varied subject matter, are included in the display. They are artistically arranged in shelves and on tables in the "staff room," located on the second floor of the library building.

Those viewing the display are allowed to tabulate the titles of books they desire to borrow when the books are placed in circulation. Quite a number of books have been reserved.

The exhibit will be open to visitors each evening of the week, after 4 o'clock.

It's easy to tell whether your action is right. Picture the result if everybody acted that way.

Work Is Started On Second Bridge

County Commissioner Elmer Conners reports that work has been started on the second Wurtemburg bridge, the contract for which was recently let to the Cline Construction Company. Operations were started at the west end of the bridge, where excavations are being made for abutment foundation. As the bridge will not be located on the site of the present structure, the old bridge can be used for travel until the new one is completed.

Work on the first bridge started is now well under way, the two piers and one abutment being about completed.

Roosevelt Will Take Time With Cabinet Picking

President-Elect Will Not Begin Cabinet Selecting Until First Of Year

MANY RUMORS ARE QUIETED

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, president-elect, intends to take his time in selecting his cabinet and he will not reach any decision before January 1, and possibly not until the first part of February.

There is a strong possibility Mr. Roosevelt will not formally announce his cabinet until just before he is anaugurated on March 4.

With the exception of a two weeks' vacation at Warm Springs, Ga., the latter part of this month he will devote all of his time to the duties of governor. Once he has turned the reins of the New York government over to his successor, Colonel Herbert H. Lehman, he will begin to give serious consideration to his cabinet and other federal appointments.

Action Delayed.

In announcing his decision to delay selection of his cabinet until after the first of the year, and referring to what he characterized as "wholly unauthorized rumors with reference to prospective appointments under the federal government," Mr. Roosevelt issued the following statement:

"In the weeks and months immediately ahead, further unauthorized and unfounded suggestions may appear in print and otherwise. To avoid any misunderstanding, I desire to make it clear that no decision has been reached and no decision will be reached in regard to any appointments for at least two months.

"I shall neither confirm nor deny such reports. Here and now, I ask the public to disregard any and all such speculations.

"From now until January 1, 1933, the greater part of my time will be occupied with my duties as governor of the state of New York."

Would Meet Hoover.

Mr. Roosevelt, according to his close associates, was annoyed over reports that he planned to promptly announce at least two of his cabinet appointments—secretary of state and secretary of the treasury— in order to "reassure" and "steady" business. He feels that the tremendous vote which swept him into the presidency is more than sufficient to "steady" business during the next few months.

While the president-elect is in Warm Springs he will discuss party policies with southern senators and congressmen.

Mr. Roosevelt said he knew "nothing" concerning reports that he would be invited to the White House in the near future to discuss a program for the short session of congress. It is understood, however, he would be glad to consult with President Hoover should an invitation be forthcoming.

BASKETS FOR ALL PURPOSES

There are fascinating baskets for all kinds of uses. There are, for example, the tall narrow baskets, designed especially for the automobile, for marketing. There are amusing baskets, lined with washable material, for gathering garden flowers and produce. There are sturdy woven clothes baskets, and loosely woven baskets for vegetables. There are wire baskets for the refrigerator, to allow for the circulation of air.

A basket would make a pretty and useful gift for a bridal shower.

Dolman cut and fullness at tops of sleeves is noted in Paris summer coats.

Maria Jeritza And Baron-Husband Are Not After Divorce

Denial Made In Pittsburgh By Famous Metropolitan Opera Singer

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—There is to be no "lighting of the fuse" for Maria Jeritza and her titled husband, Baron Von Popper, the opera singer emphatically stated today.

The Baroness registered her denial that she and her husband were planning either separation or divorce when she arrived here for a concert appearance tonight. She made the denial in the presence of her baron-husband, who is traveling with her.

A Broadway columnist recently wrote that the couple were "plotting to light the fuse."

Farmers And Milk Dealers Fail To Reach Agreement

After Six Hours Discussion In Pittsburgh, No Solution Is Found

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—After six hours of discussion behind locked doors, representatives of 50 leading milk dealers and 60 dairy farmers today apparently were no nearer solution of the milk price problem than before.

Spokesmen for both sides were reticent to discuss the conference which was held here yesterday afternoon. Neither would leaders answer as to when the next conference would be held.

It was considered likely, however, that future discussions will be delayed until Dr. Clyde King, chairman of the public service commission and popular milk-war arbitrator, can attend. Dr. King was ill yesterday.

Democrats Hold Great Powers In National Affairs

America Will Sit Back And See What Results Democrats Can Get

BIGGEST MAJORITY IN MODERN TIMES

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. — The American electorate has given to the Democratic party, through overwhelming majorities in the new congress, the greatest legislative powers ever held by a party in the nation's history.

Final returns from congressional contests today served only to increase the staggering Democratic majority in the new house. The Democrats also won a smashing majority in the new senate.

No party in all the nation's history has ever won such victories in both house and senate in a single election. One of the immediate results will be to put the "south in the saddle" so far as federal legislation is concerned in the next few years.

The lineup of the new congress, as compared to the old congress in the coming short session, follows:

	D.	R.	F.-L.
Senate
Short Session	47	48	1
New Congress	59	46	1
House
Short Session (2 vacant)	221	211	1
New Congress (7 in doubt)	311	112	5

On the Democratic side, the South came into power. Its senators and representatives will head the most important committees in both house and senate after March 4. The South, in effect, will control legislation.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

PAIN EASED FIRST DAY

If you suffer from crippling rheumatic aches and pains, Neuritis, Lumbago, lame knotted muscles, swollen inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the irritating poisons that cause rheumatism.

What you need is RU-MA, the new internal medicine that acts on the blood, liver and kidneys, and helps expel these dangerous poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination. Only an internal medicine can do this.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop—RU-MA eases pain first day and gives rheumatic sufferers such safe and lasting relief from their stiffening, crippling lameness and torturing pain that it is recommended by druggists everywhere.

Eckerd's and New Castle Drug Co. urges every sufferer to get a $1.00 bottle of RU-MA today, and agrees to return the purchase price if it does not free them from all their aches and pains of rheumatism.

TRAINED IN VOTING

Tuesday, November 8, national voting day, an election was held in the United States History A. and classes.

The three instructors, the Misses Griffiths, Maxwell and Dinsmore were responsible for the placement of regular election machinery in their classes. Voting was done on sample ballots in booths, with a regular board and judge of election being appointed. Despite their lack of experience the students were very accurate in their balloting, and only a very negligible number of errors were made.

REPRESENTATIVES ELECT

The second meeting of the Student Representatives was held third period Monday, November 7, in the cafeteria. Miss Frances Maxwell took charge of the meeting until officers were elected. After the board was cleared of minor business an election of officers took place. Those elected were:

President—James Elder.
Vice President—Gretchen Smith.
Secretary—Bob Muse.
Assistant secretary—Rose Rice.
Treasurer—Tom Burns.
Tellers—Virginia Stone, Charles Perelman.

SENIOR 'PREXY' WINS

Generally, we expect to find the one who has achieved the most prominence in the Senior A class but this once, the one who has had his name enrolled in a nation-wide contest is the newly elected president of Senior B class, Rex. Rowland. He was the successful winner in the quotation contest conducted by the "Scholastic" Magazine. In the September 24 edition of this paper the picture of an author was given. The contestants were to name this author, who was Dickens, give their favorite quotation, and the reason why they picked it. Reasons for Rex's production having been chosen as a prize winner can be found in the last edition of the Scholastic. As a prize he received his choice of five modern library books. As students of Ne-Ca-Hi we feel very much honored to have this winner in our midst.

Piles Go Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success that Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co., and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery.

PLAN 'Y. W.' DANCE

The Choral department of the Senior high school will hold a dance at the Y. W. C. A. gym on Saturday evening, November 19, at 8 p. m. Sammy Dennis, manager of Boys' Glee club and Marian Wilkison, manager of Girls' Glee club are in charge of the arrangements, and all members of the A capella chorus and glee clubs are urged to attend. Miss Gladys Rich and Miss Mary Long are the official chaperones. John Phillips' dance orchestra will furnish the music and refreshments will be served.

DRAMA CLUBS BUSY

Entertaining the public has proved to have its attractions for Dramatic clubs of the Senior high school. Both clubs have given their time willingly for the benefit of the public.

"The Royal Family" was presented November 7 by the first and second period Dramatic Club of Senior High. One act of the play was given at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, Monday evening for the Order of the Eastern Star. The characters of Act I were:

Mr. Herbert Dean—Bill Fletcher.
Mrs. Dean—Virginia Wimer.
Given Cavendish — Gretchen Smith.
Julie Cavendish—Harriet Kline.
McDermott—Robert Aiken.
Perry Stewart—John Ball.
Jo—Robert English.
Della—Mary Miller.

The fourth and fifth period Dramatic Club appeared before the Women's Club at the Highland United Presbyterian Church, November 4. The club presented "Three Pills in a Bottle" and "Wisdom Tooth."

After the presentations, the actors were served tea by the ladies.

SERVE FIRST LUNCHEON

An Introductory luncheon was served November 9, fifth period in the Model Apartment of Senior high school. The dinner was managed entirely by the Foods class.

The group serving the luncheon consisted of six girls—hostess, assistant hostess and four other girls with definite duties to perform.

The hostess must prepare the menu and purchase the food stuffs with the alloted sum of money given to her. This week's luncheon entirely managed by: Mildred Thompson, hostess, Mildred Hay, who acted as assistant hostess, Annabel Tindal, Nellie Brown, Dorothy Roberts, and Anna Hill aided in the management.

Intentions indicate that the Foods class will serve a luncheon twice a week, on Wednesday and Friday, during the fifth lunch period.

'HI-Y' INITIATES

Senior Hi-Y held their initiation at Camp Fred Rentz on Thursday evening in the form of a hike, at which time six new members were given their badges of entrance into the regular activities of the club. They were doused and they were soused and generally tested for their bravado. It's fortunate for the boys that they have several days to recover from their fright. After these events a midnight lunch was served. The boys who were initiated were: Arthur Kimmel, Dave Bender, George Benscoter, Ed Norris, Ed Schlosberg, and Bob Moore.

Dry Leaders Prepare To Battle Beer Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The impending battle over beer today overshadowed all other preparations for the December session of the "lame duck" congress.

Every indication pointed to the passage of a measure modifying the Volstead Act, although dry leaders said they can stop the movement.

Democratic leaders generally pledged themselves to support a beer bill in conformity with the declaration in their national platform, without waiting for Gov. Roosevelt to take office.

The implied threat of drys to filibuster against a beer bill stirred the wets into a ferment of excitement. They accepted the declaration of Senator Borah (R) of Idaho that a beer bill cannot pass in the short session as notice that filibustering tactics will be used.

Man Apparently Dead, Is Reviewed

Tells Of His Experience After He Recovers Consciousness In Hospital

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Pa., Nov, 11.—Snatched from death by a powerful injection of adrenalin directly into the heart muscle as he lay on an operating table, his pulse stilled, B. H. Stringer, 46, told today how it feels to "die".

"There was no pain—just an overwhelming weakness," Stringer said. "I heard the doctors talking about me and one said, 'He's gone'. I couldn't move or talk. It was like a pleasant dream. I guess I know how it feels to die."

Stringer was rushed to the hospital, unconscious and dying from knife wounds and loss of blood after a fight. As he lay on the operating table his heart beat ceased and his breath was stilled. Muscular reaction and eye dilation showed Stringer was dead.

As a desperate resort, a young interne administered an injection of adrenalin, powerful heart stimulant. Loberlin was injected into the lungs. The "dead" man's heart fluttered and beat again in measured tempo, but weakly. His lungs gasped and came to life.

Believe Beautiful Indian Model Was Assassinated

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 11.—When Sunita Devi, beautiful and bizarre model of the famous sculptor, Jacob Epstein, left England last year to return to her native India she made this prophecy to her friends:

"I am going to my death; I know it is so."

Now word comes to Bombay that she is dead. The report says that she died of intestinal inflamation, but those who knew her in this country and knew the terror with which she faced the prospect of returning to India believe that she was poisoned.

Election Returns Nearly Complete

Democrats Elect 313 Members Of House Of Representatives

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The unprecedented Democratic plurality in the house of representatives reached 202 with virtually complete returns tabulated today.

The standing was:

Democrats elected 313; Republicans, 111; Farmer-Labor, 4; doubtful, 7.

This represents a gain of 95 seats by the Democrats in the election.

Absentee ballots will settle two congressional races in California, while two in Illinois were so close as to be classed doubtful. Counting of the ballots was not complete in Minnesota.

Several contests over house seats appeared certain. In the fifth Iowa, Thurston (R) had a 270 majority in a total of over 100,000 votes.

"RUBBER BOOTS" FOR AIRPLANES IS NEW WRINKLE

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11. — Rubber boots for airplanes are the latest products of aeronautical ingenuity.

The "boots" in this case are being installed on the night mail planes of Transcontinental and Western Air, and will serve to remove any ice formations on the wings in the winter.

Developed for aeronautical use, the boots are attached to the leading edges of the wings and tail surfaces. They are inflated and deflated rapidly by means of compressed air and the pulsations prevent the ice formations.

Dog Tramps 1000 Miles Back Home

MEMPHIS, Nov. 11.—"Snowball," white collie dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne of Memphis, likes his home so well that he ran away from Sierra Blanca, Tex., and trekked the 1,000 miles back to Memphis without getting lost.

After being taken to the home of Mrs. Payne's brother in Sierra Blanca, who always had wanted Snowball, the collie disappeared from the Texas town after Mrs. Payne had returned to Memphis.

For several weeks nothing was heard of him. Then, on the mere chance that it might be Snowball, Mrs. Payne investigated an advertisement in a newspaper: "Found, a large, white collie."

Marks on the dog identified Snowball as being the lost dog.

Missing Cincinnati Man Found Dead In River At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—Ending a two-week's search which extended over the nation, the body of Ralph G. Irvine, 45, head of a Cincinnati accounting firm bearing his name, today was found in the Allegheny river at Lock Number one.

There were no marks of violence on the body, the coroner's office said. Irvine had been dead about four days. Identification was made through a wrist watch on the man's arm on which was inscribed his name.

Irvine has been missing since October 30. He registered at a local hotel while enroute from Cincinnati to New York. An hour later he disappeared.

Kenneth Hauge, a lock tender, discovered the body.

Sect Of Assassins Operates In Persia

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The mysterious and terrible sect of Assassins, believed for years to have been extinct, are reported to still occupy a last stronghold in Northern Persia. It is believed that the spread of their doctrine has done much to prepare the way for the revolutionary propaganda which India has used in recent years to such advantage.

The sect of assassins who make of crime a religion, taken their name, not from the obvious meaning which exists today, but from the word "hashish." The members of the sect used to dose themselves with the drug before committing their crimes.

Hard To Find Wife Professor Discovers

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11—It was easier to find a wife in 1900.

So declared Dr. William J. Cooper, U. S. Commissioner of Education, in an address here at the 27th annual convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"The chances are," said Dr. Cooper, "that the type of intelligent woman who would marry an intelligent man in 1900 would have chosen to remain single in 1920."

Broadening of the feminine outlook by entrance into business and professions is responsible, he said.

Eaton Scanning Data Of Probe

Senate Utility Probing Committee Adjourns Until Next Wednesday

CLAIMS TESTIMONY WAS MISLEADING

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 11.—Oliver K. Eaton, counsel for the senate utility investigating committee, spent today pouring over data submitted to him in the probe while sessions of the committee were concluded until Wednesday of next week.

Yesterday's hearings brought the disclosure that the "public relations" section of the Pennsylvania Electric Association spent $49,000 in Harrisburg while the 1931 legislature, which defeated Gov. Gifford Pinchot's fair rate measures, was in session. The money, according to A. B. Millar, managing director of the association, went for "unlooked for expenses."

Testimony Misleading.

Millar also admitted on the stand that certain testimony he gave last summer, when the senate committee investigated charges against the late W. D. B. Ainey, was misleading. He said he arranged details of a trip to Europe with Ainey and purchased the transportation, adding that Ainey later repaid him. This was a repudiation of his testimony at the summer quiz when he said he made no plans for Ainey's trip abroad.

The committee recessed without makin a decision on Eaton's request that subpoenas be issued for four public service commissioners and two former commissioners. Eaton told the probers S. Ray Shelby ignored the request for personal information and that Dr. Clyde L. King, P. S. Stahlnecker and George W. Woodruff submitted only part of the data requested.

Of the former commissioners, Richard J. Beamish, secretary of the Commonwealth, submitted partial data, while James S. Benn referred the questionnaire to counsel who suggested that Gov. Gifford Pinchot had the information asked.

Philadelphia To Have New Taxes

City Council Finance Committee Plans Method Of Raising $5,000,000

ALL OCCUPATIONS WILL BE TAXED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—An income tax to affect the butcher, the banker, the candlestick-maker and even the $10-a-week stenographer today was advanced by city council's finance committee as the solution to Philadelphia's financial woes which already have resulted in one payless payday.

The tax levy agreed upon by the committee was one-half of one per cent of all income except that money received from investments.

Sponsors of the bill claim it would raise $5,000,000 in taxes during the 1933 fiscal year and would prevent an increase in taxes to meet certain deficits.

Monthly Installments.

Under the plan set forth, the tax would be paid in monthly installments with the employer deducting the necessary amount from each employee's paycheck. Failure to pay would subject the violator to a six-month jail term, or a $100 fine, or both and a 50 per cent increase in the tax levy.

As the plan was advanced, critics today immediately pounced on what they termed its most unfair phase. All employes working in Philadelphia would be subject to the tax, including many living outside the city, and all Philadelphians working outside the city also are to be assessed.

PAY FOR WATER IN BUYING BUTTER

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11. — Butter, without the moisture properly removed, cost mid-western merchants approximately $2,000,000 in 1929, according to Dr. J. O. Clark, Chicago, chief of the central division of the federal food and drug administration.

"Merchants paid for 5,000,000 pounds of butter but, in reality, received only 500,000 pounds," Dr. Clark said. "The rest was water The butter averaged from 30 to 50 cents a pound."

Dr. Clark said the condition was being remedied through closer federal and state inspection.

NEGROES HELD IN CUTTING AFFAIR

Frank Wilson and Ed Washington, negroes, were arrested last evening shortly before 7 o'clock, as a result of a fight that they had engaged in at the home of Washington at 404 West Falls street. The trouble is said to have started over a stove. Wilson drew a penknife and attacked Washington with it, cutting him on the left arm and his clothing on the left side over the stomach. The injuries of Washington were slight. They were both being held today pending the disposition of the case. Mrs. Jesse Naves at whose home Washington resides, was struck and slightly injured during the battle.

NEW CAMERA "EYE" MAY PIERCE FOG

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 11—Secret Experiments are now being carried out by a British shipping company and a firm of photographic experts with a device that will penetrate fog and haze better than the human eye.

The device consists of a giant camera fitted with the new infra-red filter fixed on the bridge.

The "eye' will also pierce smoke screens, and experiments are being made in this direction as well.

Ohio Eleven May Give New Castle Real Test

Coach Bridenbaugh Gives New Castle High Team Final Workout Friday

South High Is Undefeated, Hope To Even Up Series With New Castle

New Castle High school football team commonly called the "Red Hurricane" will be tested to the fullest extent Saturday afternoon at Taggart Field by a powerful undefeated, but tied South High Youngstown grid team. The kickoff is listed for 2:30 o'clock. In event of good weather a large crowd will witness this annual battle between New Castle and Youngstown. The Bridenbaugh team is undefeated and untied. South High has been bowling them over with regularity in Ohio and they expect to take the sons of Pa Newc into their camp. A real game is in the offing.

New Castle Crippled

That same worried look is on the face of Coach Phil Bridenbaugh. He knows that New Castle High faces one of their toughest opponents tomorrow. In fact what team this year hasn't worried "Bridy?" Well, New Castle has played some classy outfits this season, but this crew headed by Coach "Busty" Ashbaugh looks to be the only barrier to an undefeated season.

New Castle's crippled team takes the field against South. Alex Shellogg still has a badly bruised eye, the result of the New Kensington game. Captain Mike DeCarbo has an injured optic and Johnny Uram the halfback speedster is suffering with a badly swollen nose suffered in the game last week, but it is expected that all three of these boys will be in the New Castle starting lineup.

The New Castle-South High game last year at Youngstown was a 0-0 score. The teams will battle hard for the "break" tomorrow in the series to date. New Castle has taken two games, tied with South High twice and lost one.

Must Stop Tomlin

New Castle must devise some means of stopping this man Tomlin, the colored speed merchant of the Youngstown team. It has been Tomlin who has scored the majority of the touchdowns. He is big, a powerful runner and a good broken field man. Lobinger the fullback is a hard hitting line cracker. Lottier is the signal barker and Humphrey looks after the left-half-backing.

Youngstown South will have a big strong line opposed to Coach Bridenbaugh's power-house front line wall, composed of Tomalello, Raskowski, Thomas, DeCarbo, Duff and the Shellogg brothers.

The red and black banners may start to wave as Johnny Uram dashes away tomorrow afternoon on one of those sensational runs. No game this year has been complete without one of those thrilling exhibitions. "Whitey" Nickum is fully recovered from his leg injury and ready for action. Walter Lane will be held in reserve. Walter Kominic will be the New Castle fullback and what a line crusher this chap is, whewee, how he hit that New Kensington line last week and carried through for 5, 7, 8, and 10 yards at various thrusts. Tommy Rambo the signal barker and general of the team will be at his post as director of the team and also as blocking halfback. Rambo's selections of plays this year has been fine. He is a big asset to the team.

Coach Ashbaugh will bring 30 men to New Castle for the game. They will arrive here early tomorrow morning. The big South High band is coming to New Castle with the team and will vie with the New Castle band for honors.

Faculty Manager Gardner has made arrangements to care for one of the biggest crowds of the year. The gates will open at 1 o'clock.

Nebraska May Halt Panthers

Great Pitt Eleven May Find Nebraska Rather Tough Nut Saturday

BROWN-COLUMBIA MEET TOMORROW

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—It's been pretty well behaved so far, but football is rapidly coming to its climax now and tomorrow it will turn unpleasant and violent, with feet on the face and everything, and by nightfall some of those spotless reputations are liable to look like something the cat forgot. In two sections, the southwest and Rocky Mountain, the winner takes the title outright and no questions asked. In another, the south, Tennessee and Vanderbilt, enduring rivals, will match their unbeaten teams in one of the great meetings of the year. In yet another, Pittsburgh, the hope of the east, is a ranking favorite. But it plays Nebraska at Lincoln and that's nobody field day. In the east, Columbia and Brown are still undefeated. But they play each other.

Anything Can Happen.

So anything can happen tomorrow and undoubtedly a lot of things will. Texas and Texas Christian, as the only unbeaten teams in their conference must pay off with the championship. So must Utah and Denver in the Rocky Mountains and, if anybody should drive up in a hearse and ask you, there's nothing insipid about the afternoon on the coast and in the Big Ten.

Michigan can blow its title in the Chicago game. So can Southern California against Oregon. They probably won't, but Oregon has lost only to the very good U. C. L. A. team and Chicago is never so dangerous as in the closing month of any season.

Nebraska Favored.

However, outside of those meetings where undefeated teams menace each other, the greatest first-defeat danger faces Pitt. The Panthers through succcessive games with the Army, Ohio State, Notre Dame and Pennsylvania, have been skating on ice that is thin. So by this time they're liable to fall on faces that are flat.

Meantime, the southern champion and even a national leader may emerge from that tremendous game between Vandy and Tennessee. There are several other angles to the southern situation, notably Alabama Poly which plays Florida, but in time the Vanderbilt affair may turn out to be the monumental meeting of them all. They're unbeaten to date, of course.

Oaklands Will Meet All-Stars

Oakland Mud Divers football team and the New Castle All-Stars will tangle at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Colonial Field. This is a league game. Captain Schaas wants the following Oaklands to report at the Union field at 12:30 o'clock to make the trip to Colonial Field—Crispy, Carr, Carro, Chill, Critchlow, Cataline, Kellar, Hirtz, Latimer, Fabian, Wochner, Severa, Foxx, Georgacz and Mzrock.

Titans Face Muskingum At New Concord, Ohio

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 11—Coach John Lawther, Trainer Jack Hulme, student managers, and a squad of 25 Westminster College football payers left here today for New Concord, O., where Muskingum will be played Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

The Titans will probably start a somewhat revised forward wall against the Muskies, using Straw at tackle, and shifting Captain Rehfus to guard. Leyshock and Hunneke will play the ends; Franklin and Bloker will alternate at center: Rose and Dishong will play the other guard and tackle positions.

In the backfield, Sweeney will be at quarter, Ketterer and Arrowsmith will alternate at left half: Scarbrough will play right half and Staples will be at fullback.

Ten lettermen from last season will give Muskingum strength. Except for one tackle position, all posts on the forward wall are being held down by veterans.

Many Westminster students and alumni plan to follow the team into Ohio. The game will feature the annual alumni homecoming day at Muskingum.

Title At Stake As Geneva Plays Yellow Jackets

Waynesburg Eleven Today May Halt Geneva's Mad Rush Toward Tri-State Honors

GROVE CITY AT ST. VINCENTS

By VICTOR J. JACOBS
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—Coach Frank Wolf's unbeaten, untied Waynesburg Jackets face the supreme test in their game today with Geneva College, a grid contest which bids fair to outrank all others involving tri-state district schools listed on the special Armistice day program.

Although in Westminster, Geneva still has another conference tilt remaining the eventual winner of the tri-state conference crown is expected to emerge from the Waynesburg-Geneva tilt with three victories against no defeats, Waynesburg heads the conference look today. Geneva holds second place on its record of two wins and no losses in conference competition.

Waynesburg Unbeaten.

The Jackets, this state's only unbeaten and untied eleven and one of the few teams boasting an untarnished blackboard in the east has proved itself a tower of strength by registering seven triumphs on successive week-ends over Muskingum, Penn State, Westminster, Juniata, Grove City and Bethany.

The Harpster-coached Covenanters have bumped off six of its seven foes to date, losing only to Carnegie Tech, 7-0, in one of its early, non-conference games. Geneva's list of victims include Davis & Elkins, St. Vincent, Boston University, Grove City and Marshall.

Elmer Layden's high-spirited Dukes from Duquesne University plan to carry on in a manner not unlike that displayed last Saturday when they handed a top heavy favored Washington & Jefferson team a 19-0 setback in their encounter here today with South Dakota.

One other major game in which a district member is to act will be staged at Latrobe today. Grove City is the team in question and the opponent, a formidable one, it must be said, is St. Vincent College.

"Pee Wee" To Box Kilrain

Local fight fans are partial to Filipino fighters and there is a reason, it being that every Filipino who has fought in this city has furnished plenty of action.

Frisco Grande, Young Palacio and Luis Carpentero were three and Johnny Datto a fourth. Grande and Carpentero practically eliminated themselves from the game as the result of their fight here.

And now that another brown boy is due to fight Ross Fields here the fans will look forward to seeing the scrap. The Filipino is Pancho Linda, said to be some berries as a biffer.

Ross has been going good and with the bantamweights matched apparently evenly and the fans hungry for another scrap there will be a night of activity one week from tonight.

Johnny Banko who's right has crashed against several jaws for knockouts will come back to the ring to take on Billy Mack of Akron.

"Hot Peppers" as he is known to many of his followers underwent an operation for appendicitis a year ago. He has taken things easy until three weeks ago when he resumed training.

Pee Wee Carney fought and beat Teddy Mancuso about a month ago and will tackle Tommy Kilrain of Akron at 128 pounds. If Tom is as aggressive as Pee Wee there ought to be some real slamming.

Merle Gibson will get into shape for Mickie Hazuta of Farrell. Merle was dubbed Pop Eye the night he landed one of his rights to the eye of Frankie Frey. Pop Eye holds a draw with Homer Gray.

Hazuta has not been in the pro game very long but according to Farrell fans he is a slugger from S to R. Gibson's style of hitting where he doesn't look may puzzle the Farrellite.

Young Terry and Marty Toukonen will furnish the puglistic pyrotechnics in the semi-final which is a return six round bout. Fans disagreed with the decision in the last bout, hence the return scrap.

Waynesburg and Geneva clash at Uniontown today. Waynesburg has won twice during the last nine games from Geneva.

Muskingum Ready For Westminster Game

NEW CONCORD, O., Nov. 11.—For the first time in just thirty years the football teams of Westminster and Muskingum will face each other Saturday afternoon which will also mark the eleventh annual home-coming of the New Concord school. These two United Presbyterian colleges last played each other in 1902. They played twice in that year, both games resulting in scoreless ties.

From all advance dope available, everything seems to point to a very hard but interesting struggle. The Titans have played eight games this year, three of them being in the Tri-State conference, the Blue and White winning two and losing one. In the eight games, Westminster has scored 65 points to 63 for the opponents.

The Muskies have played seven games. They have won three; lost three; and tied one. The only comparison that can be made between these two teams is by their results against the Yellow Jackets of Waynesburg. The Muskies lost to the Yellow Jackets in their first game of the season 13 to 6. The Titans were handed a setback by Waynesburg to the tune of 6 to 0. Neither team can claim an advantage in that respect unless Mushingum should get the honor in that they could score against the Yellow Jackets and Westminster didn't.

On the other hand, the Titans have played stronger teams than have the Muskies, and they will outweigh the Black and Magenta considerably. These facts really give the New Wilmington lads an edge, but a hard fought game is expected. A great crowd of alumni and friends of both institutions is expected, and it is hoped that this game will lead the way to a friendly renewal of athletic relationship which will be welcome at both schools.

Game called at 2 p. m.

Shenango High To Close Season

East New Castle Eleven Going To Evans City Saturday

LAST GAME FOR SEVERAL PLAYERS

When Shenango township high school's football team answers the whistle Saturday afternoon at Evans City, it will be the beginning of the end for a number of the mainstays of the team. That is, the beginning of the end of scholastic football for when the final whistle blows Captain Craig, Polenick, Rczeznick and several of the other regulars will hang up their Shenango shoulder pads and cleats. This is their senior year and they have reached the ineligibility bar.

The game with Evans City Saturday should be a good one. While Shenango is untied and unbeaten for the season, and Evans City has dropped one or two, the Butler county lads will be primed for the game for defeating Shenango would wipe out the memory of other games earlier in the season.

Raney Taking No Chances.

For this reason Coach Edward Raney is taking no chances. The team might have been pointing for the game with Union, so intensive has been the practice sessions this week. After breezing through the season in such satisfactory shape Raney does not want to drop this one and has been driving his charges hard.

The past season has been highly satisfactory to Shenango township. In 1929 the school adopted football as a major sport and had varying luck the first two seasons. Last season they had a good team but dropped a close one to Union high for the county class B championship.

In the meantime Coach Glenn Johnston was advanced to the position of supervising principal of the school and was forced to drop his athletic activities. Edward Raney was appointed coach and taking the seasoned materail left him from Johnston's 1931 team, proceeded to build onto that. The result has been a team that would give a good account of itself in a class A game.

Many of the students will go to Evans City Saturday afternoon to see the game. It is the last time to see the champions in action and the youngsters want to be at the finish.

Donnie Bush Has Signed Contract With Cincinnati

Former Pittsburgh Manager Will Handle Reds Next Summer, Trades Revived

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The appointment yesterday of Owen Bush as manager of the Cincinnati Reds has definitely revived the proposal whereby Sunny Jim Bottomley, first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, may wear a Brooklyn uniform next year.

Previous negotiations for Bottomley had been broken off because (1) Brooklyn officials were sure that Bottomley was going to land the Cincinnati job and (2) because the Cards had demanded Southpaw Bill Clark, Brooklyn's pitching ace, in exchange, a proposition that Brooklyn couldn't see.

An official of the Brooklyn club, in admitting today that the Dodgers would renew efforts to grab Bottomley at the National League meeting here next month, declared the acquisition of Summy Jim would make the Dodgers the equal of any club in the circuit.

Three Class AA Battles Today

Three Class AA Conference football teams will play their football battles today as part of Armistice celebration. The only league game for Saturday will find Jeannette at Turtle Creek.

The games today will feature—McKeesport at Norwin and this should be a win for the Tubers. Washington at Charleroi and this game looks like a toss-up. Monessen will play at Greenburg and the latter team is favored to win.

New Castle, Wilkinsburg, New Kensington, and Clairton will be idle this week in league competition. New Castle will meet South High of Youngstown here Saturday and Clairton is booked with Aliquippa at the Aliquippa field today. Clairton is the favorite.

New Kensington will play at Butler Saturday and rank as favorites to top the Butlerites. Wilkinsburg and Swissvale will tangle today at Wilkinsburg with the Holy City crew picked to be on top.

Each played a match with James Beecher at New York yesterday and each defeated Beecher.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The stock market advanced strongly today in the heaviest trading in a month.

Heavy buying came into the list from the opening gong as a result of yesterday's sweeping rise and the high speed ticker fell 3 minutes behind before the end of the first hour.

Despite considerable profit-taking, the list rose 1 to more than 3 points to new highs on the current recovery movement.

Bonds kept pace with stocks, railroad obligations leading a brisk forward movement. Wheat was higher in Liverpool as Chicago and Winnipeg were closed for Armistice Day. Cotton was easy on profit-taking following yesterday's $2 a bale uprush.

The rails set the pace for the day's rise. Union Pacific was outstanding, spurting more than 3 points. Atchison was not far behind while good gains were scored by the rest of the carrier list.

The "wet" stocks marked time, interest switching from this group due to its rapid rise in the last week.

U. S. Steel Preferred was a strong spot on short covering while the common did little. American Telephone was a strong leader, hitting the highest price in weeks Allied Chemical was another one-time blue chip to show aggressive sponsorship.

Further short covering lifted Case Threshing sharply. The farm implement group was stimulated by announcement Russia was meeting payments aggregating several million dollars.

Roosevelt Will Take Rest From Tough Campaign

President-elect Plans To Get Away From Everyone For Three Days

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The reaction from the campaign was beginning to tell today on President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt.

For the second time in as many days he cancelled his plans to come to the capitol, and remained in bed at the executive mansion until almost noon.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she had urged the "governor"—she still refers to him as governor—to remain in bed all day.

"He is tired out and needs plenty of sleep," she said.

Late today Mr. Roosevelt will motor to his Hyde Park home, where he will rest and sleep for the next three days.

"I'm going into seclusion and rest, and I'm not going to see anyone," he told newspapermen.

Ellwood To Meet Strong Rochester Team On Saturday

Fans To Get Opportunity To View Famed Aerial Game Of Visitors

LOCALS UNDERDOGS FOR BIG CONTEST

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11—A record crowd is expected to turn out at Lincoln Field Saturday afternoon to watch Rochester High football team unleash its famed aerial game against the blue and white of Ellwood City High.

It will be a hard game between two evenly matched elevens. The visitors will be bested only in one thing—weight and brawn. But what they lack in this they make up in brains and speed. The Taylormen are reputed to be one of the fastest and cleverest elevens in Beaver Valley. With their clever game they have defeated Monaca, New Brighton, and Aliquippa. Beaver Falls just missed being victims to their aerial game by starting a last minute rally.

Coaches Benedict and Ferrare have been driving their proteges hard all week to prepare them against an avalanche of passes which Rochester never fails to use. Also Coach Benedict has worked on a little passing attack of his own, and may pull a surprise or two against the visitors. Ellwood will chiefly rely on their vastly improved running attack which clicked to satisfaction against New Brighton last week. Several new deception plays were added to their repertoire during the week.

The two scrimmage sessions held this week give local grid followers much hope for the Tubers to turn in another victory. They revealed much success in breaking up Rochester's plays and passes. The early spring workouts which the local squad was compelled to go through has shown to best advantages to the team. The players always outlast their opponents and really get into their full stride in the last quarter. The fine physical condition the players are in, has been evident the last few games. There has been no serious casualty on the Ellwood High squad, with the exception of Captain Joe Welsh.

Coach Benedict will send his strongest lineup against Rochester here on Saturday afternoon. Zanieski and Gamble the main cogs in Rochester's offensive will be receiving some close attention from the locals who will be alert throughout the game against their passing. These two men can pass or receive. Ellwood's starting lineup will probably be the same as in the last game with Barnes and Johnson at the ends, Vogt and Pratt at the tackles, Glover center, McClosky quarter, Paal and Howells halfbacks, Luxenberg, fullback.

Council Holds Regular Meeting

Monthly Business Is Transacted Last Night In City Hall

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11.—Various items of business were transacted at the monthly meeting of the Ellwood City borough council in the city hall last night.

A communication of much interest was received from a Pittsburgh firm of lawyers who represent the Harmony company. Some money that the borough had little hopes of recovering was enclosed with the communication. They received a check for $403.78 on their claim of $537.83. They were notified that the remainder of the money would come in another three months.

An interesting letter from the state department on the matter of unemployment relief was considered by council. The letter told how the borough was to receive financial aid from the state relief organization. The principle in this was employing community service labor under the highway department's supervision. The borough was to provide the material and the state would pay the laborers in food. The whole matter was left in the hands of the street committee and the borough manager who will work out the details.

Upon vote of council the minutes of Oct. 14 which gave the receover of the Harmony permission to come through the borough to tear up the tracks just outside the city limits, were inserted into the regular book.

Fire Chief H. T. Plante reported that there were four fires in the city for the month of October. Only in one there was a damage of $500. For the services foremen received $50.

The monthly report of the police department showed that there were ten arrests made. Four persons were discharged, two fined and two forfeited. Total fines, forfeits and dance permits yielded $60.50.

The health department reports that there were only three cases of chicken pox in the contagious report for the month of October. At this time council accepted the resignation of H. D. Parkinson as a member of the Board of Health. Mr. Parkinson and his family are making their permanent home in another city.

Borough Secretary E. B. Moyer reported that the government tax on electricity cost the borough $221.14 this month.

The street committee reported that with Borough Manager L. W. Monroe they have gone over the dirt streets in the city and have found them to be in a general good condition with one or two exceptions. These will be taken care of before snow comes. Because of an alley being too narrow council voted to return a deed on certain property to the Pittsburgh company until the matter is adjusted.

Upon a recommendation of M. A. Riley, council voted to give free garbage service to the local public library, since it is a public institution.

The police committee was ordered to investigate certain advertising signs of local firms that are alleged to be on borough property. If this is found to be the case, the signs will be removed.

When the borough is ready to start their ashing work about the city, Councilman Thos. D. Rocco suggested that the city ash a portion from the borough line on South Second street to the Frisco bridge as well as from the city limits to Ellport. Mr. Rocco pointed out that these roads are traversed much by school children and would be a safety measure for them.

The awarding of the coal contract was left in the hands of the rules and regulation committee who will study the bids and make the award accordingly.

The day was devoted to quilting and sewing on fine handwork and at noon a delicious luncheon was enjoyed.

The devotional and business periods were conducted by the president Mrs. R. W. McDanel. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Mains of Wiley Hill on Thursday December 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Young and son Bobbie of Wurtemburg were guests last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dean of Harlansburg.

Approve New Tax Payment Plan

School Board And Council Approves Plan For Periodical Payment Of Taxes

CARDS WILL BE SENT OUT SOON

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11.—Once they had reached a definite decision the Ellwood City board of education and borough council were not long in rushing matters to a head.

Last week they had elected a new tax collector and last night they approved a plan for the periodical payment of taxes as agreed upon by both finance committees. The plan was accepted in full by council and school board at their regular meeting last night.

In connection with passing the plan council will install an accounting system that will be suitable for the new taxing plan. A card system was recommended. Also the tax collector was authorized to employ help and he will be given new quarters in the city building. This part will be taken care of by the rules and regulations committee and the accounting system is in charge of the finance committee. Council and the school board have agreed to share expenses in these two matters.

E. B. Moyer, the new tax collector, will be entitled to the same rate of commission on taxes collected as was the old collector, council announced. The school board set the same rate. Mr. Moyer's bonds of $30,000 for the city and $40,000 by the school board were accepted by both bodies last night. The latter bond is subject to the approval of the boards' attorney. Also at their meeting last night council issued the tax collector's warrant.

Isidore Kraus Dies Here This Morning

Stroke Is Fatal To One Of Ellwood City's Pioneer Residents

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11—Death claimed one of Ellwood City's well known pioneer residents when Isidore Kraus, 61, succumbed suddenly this morning to a stroke. Physicians were summoned to his bedside at the time of the stroke but could do nothing to save his life.

The death was unexpected and his family and innumerable friends were stricken with grief. The deceased was well known in the city being a retired merchant. He was one of the city's outstanding citizens and property owners having operated a business and lived here for the past 37 years. He was revered and loved by all who knew him for his kind and charitable deeds in the community. Mr. Kraus is the owner of several business buildings in the city.

Besides his widow the deceased leaves three sons, Morey, prominent local attorney, Lawrence and Sidney, two daughters and several grand-children.

Funeral services took place this afternoon at 1:30 from the late home on the Ellwood-New Castle road with Rev. Levinson officiating.

Oppose Passing Of Handbills

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11—A hearty discussion on the passing of handbills about the city, especially by out of town people, took place at the regular meeting of council last night in the city hall.

Many councilmen and Burgess Turner stated that they were provoked at seeing their yards and streets strewn with handbills. Asked if the borough had an ordinance covering the passing of bills by out of town concerns here, Burgess Turner stated that there was but it was not strong enough to keep them out altogether. When a certain fee was presented they were allowed to pass the bills. The fee had been put on to purposely discourage this thing in Ellwood City. Many local merchants have requested Burgess Turner to take steps and revoke the ordinance so that free advertising of this type could be had there.

FATHERS-SONS BANQUET

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 11—Successful in every detail was the fathers and sons banquet, sponsored by the Mary Braeden Circle, and held last evening at the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church.

At 7 o'clock the 80 guests were seated at five long tables, prettily centered with baskets of various colored "mums" and unique favors marked places for each guest. The room was attractively decorated with cornshocks and beautifully colored leaves.

Rev. J. E. Caughey served very well in the capacity of toastmaster. W. L. Timblin gave an inspiring toast to the sons and Carl Gallaher responded to the fathers. The Ellwood City Mandolin club favored the audience with many catchy selections. Pep singing was led by Jerry Workley and Earl Timblim. Appropriate readings were given by Jack McCarty, Jack Fury, Jack Friday, Paul Gibbons, John Caughey, and Rex Gallaher.

The main address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Chester T. Yates, pastor of the Rochester United Presbyterian church. He spoke principally to the sons and gave them the motto, Study, Know, Control and Deny Yourself.

Red Cross Rooms Opened To Public

Citizens Of New Castle Are Invited To Visit Office And See Work Done

During the annual roll call period, which opened today, the rooms of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, on South Mercer street, above the City Mission, are open to the public.

All citizens of New Castle and Lawrence county are specially invited by Chairman Harry Alexander to visit the rooms and see the work which is now being carried on by the Red Cross.

At the present time the task of administering relief is occupying the greatest attention of the chapter. Besides nursing and the distribution of clothing made from Red Cross cloth, and Red Cross flour is being centered upon, in addition to the many other services the Red Cross renders war veterans and their families.

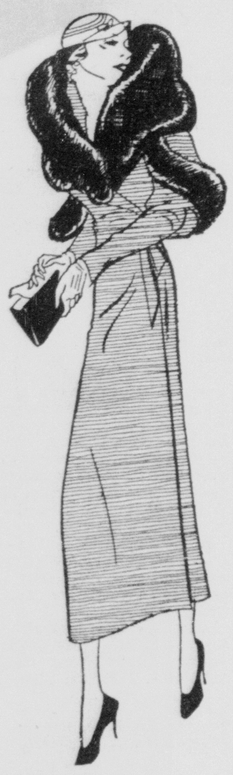

It is a revelation to visit the chapter office and see the great number of garments which have been made and are ready for distribution, in addition to the many bolts of wonderful cotton materials which have not as yet been made up.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Back in the days when we didn't know that a saxophone's blaring would travel through the air around the world, and nobody had heard of the terms wave length or kilocycle, people enjoyed concerts. Most any kind of a concert attracted a crowd from the most amateurish to the skilled presentations of Ponselle and Gigli and the other sharks.

Then came the radio and for a time it seemed as though personal appearances of singers was something against them. People tuned in on the radio and the concerts in high schools and churches turned blue around the edges.

Now they seem to be coming back. Took in a little concert in the Reformed Presbyterian church last night and haven't enjoyed anything in a long time as much. And in conversation with some of the artists they tell me that concerts are picking up in popularity.

Perhaps the same condition will apply to the theatre. Somehow the most perfect talking picture lacks that flesh and blood appeal that the old time acts did, and we're hoping for the day when the bill will have the old time collection of acts on it. Remember when they usually opened with a "dumb" act, jugglers or trapeze performers or trained seals. From that they worked on through comics, pianologues, sister acts and tap dancers. And next to closing was the feature act of the bill.

Out for dinner tonight with a gang that gathers once a year, and that once on Armistice night. Fourteen years ago every one of the crowd that will be present tonight ate his dinner (it was supper in those days) in a mess hall or on board a battleship.

Some of them were eating iron rations up in a dugout, and some of them were eating back in rest camps. Not a few of them were on semi-solid diet in military hospitals. A few of them had bars on their shoulders and some had stripes on their arms. Tonight there will be no bars, no stripes, no rank, just a crowd of fellows who went out in a common cause and were lucky enough to get back.

This is one day of the year when Nick Speed will not work. He hasn't worked on Armistice Day since they signed that rather interesting document, and by now it is as much a habit with him as sleeping with the window open.

For the next several years, Ivor Davis will not be in the market for hats. A straw perhaps, but no fall or winter hats. He won seven of them on the election returns. Which is a lot of hats to have around the house at one time.

Ivor talked seven of his friends into betting on the results in Pennsylvania in the election, his bet being that Mr. Hoover would carry Pennsylvania. Each bet was a hat and the results are history now. In case you run short yourself, call him for an early choice of hats.

REPORTS THEFT OF ADDING MACHINE

Jack Crowl on Thursday reported to the police that he had purchased the property of the New Castle Lumber and Construction Company on West Grant street and that the place had been broken into.

Entrance was effected through a rear door. An adding machine was found to be missing. Whether or not anything else of value was stolen has not yet been fully determined.

Shooting Stars To Stage Show

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11. — The middle of November will bring a shower of shooting stars that will rival the famous sky shows of the past, if the hopes of astronomers are realized.

Dr. Charles P. Olivier, director of the Flower Observatory of the University of Pennsylvania, and president of the commission on meteors of the International Astronomical Union, will tell of the reason for these hopes in a lecture before the Rittenhouse Astronomical Society.

Special evangelistic meetings being conducted at the Salvation Army Hall, 133 Water street, are increasing in interest. Special speakers are arranged for each evening.

The meeting this evening opens at 7:30 p. m. with a song service. Rev. Charles Fox of Mt. Nebo, Pa., will deliver the sermon of the service. He will be accompanied here by his wife.
